WARD'S COUNSEL GIVES UP GUNS

Turns Over Two Pistols Which Were Alleged to Have Figured in Killing

Coroner Declares Holdup Story Doesn't Ring True to Him

Not Going to Hold Inquest Until He Gets Evidence to Make Ward Talk

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., May 25. (By the Associated Press.)—Counsel representing Walter S. Ward, millionaire baker's son who claims to have shot Clarence Peters in self-defense, near the Kensico reservoir, nearly two weeks ago today, turned over to Sheriff George L. Werner, two pistols which were alleged to have figured in the story by Ward of a battle between him and a band of blackmailers.

Ward's attorneys, however, failed to reveal the strange and secret hold which the blackmailers may have had upon their victim. District Attorney Weeks yesterday had declared that the whole story of the alleged blackmail plot must be unfolded to the public if Ward continues to stand on his plea of self-defense.

Both Sheriff Werner and Dist. Atty. Weeks appeared before the grand jury today after a long conference with Supreme Court Justice Seegar, who last Monday released Ward under $10,000 bail.

Coroner Fitzgerald did not echo the sheriff's statement that the case was "pretty well cleared up."

"I am not going to hold the inquest until I can get sufficient evidence to make Mr. Ward talk," the coroner said, "because he can stand on his constitutional rights and not say anything."

"I honestly say that the whole story does not ring true to me. We are now checking up the discordant notes."

Latest developments have aroused the question as to how long Ward had been acquainted with Peters before the killing. New revelations, expected from an anonymous letter received by District Attorney Weeks, were looked for today.

The prosecuting official is confident the writer, who claimed to be a soldier and to have known Ward, will reveal his knowledge as to what caused the death of Peters.

"I do not believe a crank wrote that letter," said Mr. Weeks, who showed it to reporters but did not read it. "And I have a clue as to how I can reach him. I would not be surprised."

$44,000 FOR MOTOR CARS

City's Motor Car Investments for Year Represent Snug Fortune

When the city today bought three more automobile trucks—two 5-ton Packards for the street department and a 1½-ton Dorr for the sealers' department—it ran its motor car investments for the year up to approximately $44,000, representing the purchase of eight commercial trucks, one fire ladder truck, one police patrol and eight cars of either coupe, roadster or touring type.

The pair of Packard trucks purchased today, each to cost $6250, are to be equipped with dump bodies and are the same overall as the truck purchased by the street department early this month.

The 1½-ton truck bought today is for the city sealer and will be a Dorr, at a cost of $3600. The only other bid received was $350 from the Lowell Motor Mart.

Stiff Fines and Jail Sentences Imposed in Liquor Cases in District Court

Two most unusual liquor cases were unique defense. It remained for the tried in district court today before Judge Thomas J. Enright. Although both cases were hotly contested by counsel for defense, stiff fines and jail sentences were imposed in both instances. The first case was that in which Patrick Neary was convicted of illegal keeping, fined $100 and sentenced to serve two months in the house of correction. The other was one involving Demetrius Papacostas who was also charged with illegal keeping. He was found guilty and fined $100 and sentenced to serve three months in the house of correction. Appeals were taken in both cases.

While the Neary case brought out a

Move to Change Ancient Senate Rule

WASHINGTON, May 25.—A movement, said to have the backing of a large number of senators to change the ancient senate rule permitting unlimited debate, was initiated today at a conference of republican senators.

Admits Killing Girl; Threw Body in Creek

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 25.—George Elmer Munroe, 19 years old, of Camden, confessed today to the Camden county authorities that he killed Ida Kramer, seven years old of Woodbury, and threw her body in a creek. He was out of work and kidnapped the girl for ransom, he said, according to the authorities.

Defense Rests in Treason Trial

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., May 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—The defense rested today in the trial of William Blizard, who is accused of treason as the result of an armed march by striking coal miners. Sergeant Timothy Lynch, who was with the federal forces which went into the Coalriver area testified for the prosecution in rebuttal that at Blair, Blizard tried to get the armed men to return on a train, but of about 150 in the crowd he addressed only 20 or 25 took the train. At Sharpley, he said, Blizard assisted in getting onto the train enough men to fill four railroad coaches.

British and French Premiers to Confer

LONDON, May 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Prime Minister Lloyd George will meet Premier Poincare of France at Boulogne or Calais, probably early in June, the Evening News today says it understands, for discussion of the political situation and questions left over from the Genoa conference. No confirmation of such a meeting has been arranged was obtainable at Downing street today.

State Board Urges Cut of 15 P. C.

LYNN, May 25.—The state board of arbitration today advised a temporary wage cut of 15 per cent in the shoe industry here and requested the manufacturers to reopen their factories. This recommendation is identical with that made by a local board of arbitration, failure to accept which by all the elements involved, caused Mayor McPheters to call the state board into the local controversy. The United Shoe Workers of America have accepted the advice and will return to work. The Allied Shoe Workers objected to the proposal originally. The Lynn Shoe Manufacturers' association announced that they would reopen tomorrow. The manufacturers sought to impose a 20 per cent cut.

North Adams Police Station Burned

NORTH ADAMS, May 25.—Captain Frank Jones of the police department is in a serious condition at the hospital here from burns and injuries sustained during a fire early this morning when after being trapped by flames on the second floor of the police station he dropped from a window to the ground. Two prisoners held for drunkenness were not rescued until the fire was completely under control. They were in cells on the rear of the first floor and were protected by brick walls. The fire which started in the cellar, spread with incredible rapidity to the roof and completely gutted the front portion of the building. The station is directly behind the fire department headquarters. Captain Jones who had finished his night tour of duty, was asleep in a room on the second floor when the fire broke out.

McQUADE SERIOUSLY INJURED IN FALL

John McQuade, aged 30 years and residing at 707 Central street, is in a serious condition at St. John's hospital as a result of injuries he received last evening when he fell down a flight of stairs at his home. It was stated at the hospital this noon that it is feared McQuade is suffering from a fracture of the skull, and as a result an X-ray picture of the injury was taken this morning.

Roasting in earth ovens and boiling by placing hot stones in earthenware vessels were prehistoric means of cooking food.

CHEERS GREET LLOYD GEORGE

Premier Opens Debate in Commons on Achievements of Genoa Congress

Russia Hopeless Without the Assistance of the Other 30 Nations

Points Out Three Alternatives in Dealing With Russian Situation

LONDON, May 25. (By the Associated Press.)—Cheers greeted Prime Minister Lloyd George when he entered the house of commons this afternoon, for a debate on the foreign policies of the government which is likely to have an important bearing upon his political future.

Mr. Lloyd George, in beginning his speech, said he proposed dealing only with the business of the Genoa conference and did not intend to discuss German relations or British relations with France, an opportunity for which discussion would be provided next week.

After reviewing the objects of the conference, he said that in regard to the question whether the conference had succeeded, he would simply state the facts fairly and let the members judge them fairly.

Although peace had been established in Europe, it was quite clear, said Mr. Lloyd George, that the war atmosphere to a certain extent remained.

As for Russia, it was hopeless for her, whatever her government, said the premier, to expect to extricate herself from the pit of squalid misery without the assistance of the other 30 nations.

There were three alternatives in dealing with the Russian situation, Mr. Lloyd George pointed out. The first was force, which has failed. No one had suggested that at Genoa. The second was to leave Russia to her fate.

"But how," he asked, "could we insure Europe against the risks this policy would involve? The Russo-German agreement shows the sort of peril I mean."

OLD TOMBSTONES ARE UNEARTHED

Workmen employed in the razing of the buildings recently acquired by P. J. Mahoney at the corner of Reed and Fifth streets, were treated to a surprise yesterday, when, in the course of minor excavations, they accidentally uncovered two stone tablets in a concealed corner of the cellar.

The tablets were neatly placed over a 30 ft. well, which was also discovered in an inconspicuous section. Evidently tombstones, they were somewhat roughened with age, so that the inscriptions were hardly readable. The larger of the two contained the following: "In Memory of Robert Young, A Native of Scotland, Who Died Sep. 28, 1844, Aged 28 years." The bottom of the stone read, "Rest thee, my husband, Rest, thy trouble's o'er." The remainder was illegible. On the other stone was inscribed, "Everett Adams, Son of Mr. Adam and Mrs. Eunice Wiley, died Nov. 22, 1832, aged 8 weeks and four months." Where the stones came from originally is not known, unless they were taken from some cemetery when new stones were placed over the resting places of the departed.

MacBrayne Asks Mayor Brown Not to Nominate Him For Position of Superintendent of Police

Winfred C. MacBrayne, temporary superintendent of police, today requested Mayor George H. Brown not to send his name to the city council as a nominee for the permanent position, but the mayor announced at 1 o'clock this afternoon that he would nominate the acting chief for the place, just the same and that the nomination would be presented to the council at its special meeting tonight.

Capt. MacBrayne's stand in the matter, which he expresses in his letter to the mayor, is that he does not wish further to embarrass him in any appointment of a permanent nature, for the reason that he feels sure that never would he be able to receive a vote of confirmation from the council.

The letter, a copy of which was made available for the newspapers, contains a number of charges without the mentioning of names, relative to alleged "offers" on the part of men said to be interested in the liquor business locally and embraces a lengthy resume of what Mr. MacBrayne says he has experienced while serving temporarily in the office.

He charges that he could have been confirmed as superintendent by the council "if I would agree to protect certain liquor-dealer friends of theirs, who will recall that I gave this information to you verbally at the time, naming the councilors who made these propositions and the liquor dealers whom they desired to protect."

"If I had not refused to enter to these votes and the interests they represented, but I pursued a vigorous policy of law enforcement against them, incurring thereby the enmity of the gangsters, who had sought to influence my public actions."

"If I had used the police department as these men wanted me to use it, I could have been confirmed for the office. I feel certain of that. Because I have done my duty, as I saw it, in the interest of the department and the city, I have made it impossible for me to ever receive a majority or the votes of the council. My own self-respect."

MacBrayne's letter was received by Mayor Brown today. The body of George Heiner, 65, was found today suspended by a rope in his two-room Brooklyn flat. Nearby, his wife, Sofia, lay unconscious from gas that poured from an open jet. The aged pair were penniless and about to be evicted.

UP TO THE CITY COUNCIL AGAIN

The board of health today officially notified Dennis J. Murphy, counsel for Alexander Ggonowich, pastor of the Holy Trinity Polish Catholic church, that it has approved of the petition for the use of Spaulding park as a burying ground as far as the board itself is concerned in the matter, which is limited to the public health.

Inasmuch as the petition originally was addressed to the city council, it will rest with that body to take the next step and final action on the proposition. It is understood that if the council approves there will be no delay in the actual purchase of the land by the Polish people.

Palmer Not a Candidate

When seen today and questioned regarding such action on the part of the mayor, Capt. Palmer said that he did not feel that he is in a position to accept the job, if it should be offered to him.

"I do not think I am ready to sacrifice my civil service rating for a position that is not permanent," said Capt. Palmer, "and I do not think that I would receive confirmation from the council. In fact, I know I wouldn't," he added.

"I fully appreciate that the position of superintendent is a most honorable one," continued the captain, "and any member of the force would be proud to occupy it, but at my age, I do not think I would be wise in accepting it. If I could get it, which I most seriously doubt."

"If I were superintendent, however," said Capt. Palmer, "I would run the police department, you can bet on that and no one would for a minute presume to tell me how to do it. I would enforce all laws to the limit of my ability, particularly the present"

Opinion by Atty. Gen. Daugherty on Contract With Alabama Power Co.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—An opinion by Attorney General Daugherty, submitted today to the house military committee, holds that the contract executed by the government with the Alabama Power Co. is "invalid" with respect to the provision which the power company officials contend gives them the right of exclusive purchase of the government's interests in the steam power plant at Gorgas, Ala.

WILLING TO RISK HIS LIFE

Rep. Herrick to Prove He's
Only Aerial Daredevil in Congress

Accepts Challenge to Make
High Flight With the Brakes Off

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Willing to take a chance with death to prove himself the only aerial daredevil of congress, Representative Herrick, republican, Oklahoma, accepted a challenge today for a high flight with the brakes off.

Herbert J. Fahey, the challenger, had promised the Oklahoman that he would lose more than a necktie if he agreed to go up.

"You will at your earliest convenience go with me to the war department," Mr. Herrick wrote, "and make the request for a plane and I will back up the request as a congressman, personally."

The house member said he would make no request himself because he "was sure at the department for issuing an order that I must not do any more stunt flying over the Capitol for fear I might fall upon the light and fracture a pane or two and thus put some silver of glass in some sleepy senator's or congressman's nose."

"If you really have any sand in your craw to make good the challenge," Mr. Herrick added, "why you must money around to my office and we will go to the war department together."

Dropping into his own made poetry, Herrick gave this:
"If when we fly away on high we should fall down and die, Anyone wants to cry must rub an onion in their eye."
"Anyone who wants to cry must rub an onion in their eye."

Answering Fahey to take out some life insurance Herrick said he had none, adding:
"Personally, I don't have to as I am not leaving any dependents behind. For I have neither father nor mother, sister nor brother; uncle or aunt, nephew or niece nor cousin even in the 43rd degree. Life to me is not sweet and I don't care, two whoops in Gehenna if you go up a couple of miles and stand her on her nose and let her hit."

SENATE UPSETS REPORTS

Passes Bill to Increase Income
Tax Exemption — Lowell
Men Speak

BOSTON, May 25.—The Massachusetts senate yesterday overturned two reports of the ways and means committee. That committee had reported in favor of the rejection of the bill which provides that in the payment of the income tax an exemption of $250 shall be made for every child under the age of 18; the present law provides that exemption shall be made for not more than two children.

Senators Putnam and Pearson of Lowell, Griswold of Greenfield and Quinn of Swampscott spoke for the bill and Senator Hardy of Huntington and Monk of Weymouth supported the committee on ways and means. The senate, by a vote of 22 to 17, refused to reject the bill, and it was afterwards passed to be engrossed and sent to the house.

The committee on ways and means had reported also against the bill providing that laborers on public works as well as mechanics and teamsters, both of whom are covered by existing law, shall receive not less than the customary wages for that work in the vicinity where it is done. Senator Hardy of Fitchburg spoke in favor of the committee report, and 12 Senators, argued for the bill. By a vote of 20 to 18, the senate refused to reject the bill and it went into the calendar.

Sunday Services
2. Morning service, Sunday, May 25.—Members will meet at the Calvary Baptist church, Liberty street, at 10 o'clock and attend services at 10:30.
3. Afternoon service, Sunday, May 25.—Members assemble at these headquarters at 1:30 o'clock and attend the joint memorial service at 2 o'clock at the First Congregational church. Orator by Rev. Percy E. Thomas, pastor.

Memorial Day
4. The post will assemble at these headquarters Tuesday morning, May 30, at 8 o'clock, and proceed by automobile to the cemetery and at the close of the exercises will go direct to Tewksbury, assisting that town in its memorial services. A few members of the post will march to town hall where appropriate services will be held, after which a dinner will be served by the ladies of the church. After dinner comrades will return to headquarters by automobile. Officer of guard, A. J. Bixby will assist Captain Darby in assigning comrades to their automobiles.

5. The post will assemble at 2:30 p. m. at these headquarters and on arrival of Postmaster and 12 o'clock with them, reporting to the chief marshal on the South common. At the close of the parade and reviews, when dismissed will return to the First Universalist church, Hurst street, where we are to be guests of the Sons of Veterans.

6. Comrades unable to march are urged to ride, if their health will permit, on Memorial afternoon. Notify the adjutant, if you will go on or before the 26th instant, so he may know how many carriages to order. We must know how many to order by that date. Carriages with veterans leave these headquarters at 12:30 o'clock for the cemetery.

7. As far as possible wear full uniform upon all occasions, blouse, flat belt and gloves; the officers their side arms for parade only. Every veteran should consider it his duty to attend as many of these exercises as his health will permit, whether in uniform or not. We need you. The uniform is of secondary importance. A few uniforms can be furnished to comrades at headquarters.

8. All war veterans are invited to join with us in these services under the same conditions as members of the post.
Let the few of us that the day finds unable turn out and make this day memorable.
Detail of Comrades:
Captain—George L. Cady, in command of company.
Bugler—George E. Bryant.
Officer of Day—C. M. Bixby.
Officer of Guard—A. J. Bixby.
Color Sergeant—J. E. Whitton.
Color Guard—E. N. Morrill, C. E. Chase, Heuben Sells, L. Van Steinberg, F. S. Pevey, Commander.
C. H. Horton, Adjutant.

ACTORS TO RUN THEATRE IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, May 25.—An ambitious theatrical enterprise, backed by two-score prominent actors and actresses, with an initial pledge of $23,000 for the operation of a theatre in New York exclusively by members of the profession and the production of the best plays, was announced Tuesday night by the Actors' Equity association. It will be undertaken by the Equity Players, Inc., organized yesterday, with Francis Wilson, president.

The Forty-Eighth street theatre has been leased for a year from Aug. 1. It was announced, and the season will begin on Oct. 15.

The fund pledged by the guarantors committee will be sufficient to assure the success of the venture. It was said, making unnecessary the use of Equity association money.

Frank Gilmore, executive secretary of the Equity, said that no opposition to the regular theatrical manager was planned. The project, he explained, "is rather intended to be of assistance to them by increasing the output of plays and the movement of theatregoers."

The guarantors include George Arliss, Constance Tully, Jane Cowell, Elsie Ferguson, De Wolf Hopper, Alfred Hitchcock, Doris Keane, Nance O'Neil, James T. Powers, Roland Bottemley and Florence Reed.

SEVEN HURT AS CAR HITS AUTO

NEWTON, May 25.—Seven persons were injured yesterday when a Boston & Worcester car struck a motor truck on Boylston street, near the Brookline boundary. Oscar Moody, Hartford street, Framingham, the motorman, was seriously injured. His chest was crushed and he was severely cut and bruised. He was given treatment and taken home.

Less serious injuries were suffered by Mrs. James W. Weeks, Oak street, Wellesley, who was taken to the Peter Bent Brigham hospital; Mrs. Victorine Douglas of 123 Abbott park, Wellesley Hills, who was taken to the Newton hospital; and a Mrs. Palmer of Framingham, who was also taken to the Peter Bent Brigham hospital.

Three of the 40 passengers were cut by flying glass. The truck was driven by William Quimby of Arborway, Jamaica Plain, who is employed by Dennis Driscoll, a Brookline contractor. Quimby jumped from the truck as the car struck it and escaped injury. The truck was thrown 25 feet by the impact, though it was carrying six tons of sand.

One side of the road is under repairs and the truck was crossing the tracks to reach the other side when the electric car came along and smashed into it.

WILL SELL DAISIES WITH GOLDEN HEARTS

As a preliminary opening to the American Legion's Daisy Day drive, which will take place in this city Saturday, four mammoth white daisies with golden hearts, bearing the autographs of President Harding, Mrs. Harding, Governor Cox and Major General R. Edwards will be auctioned off on the South common Friday evening by Mayor George H. Brown.

Although enlarged by a width of two feet, the daisies are perfect replicas of the common field daisy. The autographs are absolutely authentic, were secured by the general committee and will be on display today.

It is expected that this most novel way of opening the drive will stimulate interest in the events which are to follow on Saturday. This daisy drive is just another method the Legion has taken up to secure funds with which to aid disabled veterans, their widows and children. It is a most worthy cause and one which should meet with a hearty response by the public.

More significance is given to the drive on account of its proximity to Memorial Day. The day in question is one in which the hero dead are tenderly remembered by those who have come through great strife, in most instances, defending the honor of their country. The committee, which consists of Legion members and members of the "Legion's" day, has not any stipulated amount in mind. It simply hopes that the response to the drive will be hearty. A few pennies from each individual will help to swell the fund and give the relief committee funds with which to carry on its work.

In Mayor Quinn of Cambridge, who will address the meeting Friday night, the committee has secured a most able speaker and a man foremost in all public welfare work. He has always been a great booster for the American Legion and he will have many interesting things to tell of the Legion's work in his city.

The four large daisies, to be auctioned Friday night will be struck off to the highest bidders. The race to secure them will be a spirited one, as it is seldom that the public is given a chance to obtain such souvenirs.

$100,000 LOSS CAUSED BY FIRE

JUDGE PIERCE TO BE TRIED NEXT WEEK

BOSTON, May 25.—Judge Edward P. Pierce of the supreme court and W. Edwin Ulmer will go to trial in the superior criminal court next week, on an indictment accusing them of conspiracy. The case is on the list for Monday.

Judge Pierce and Attorney Ulmer are specifically charged with conspir-

ing to obstruct justice in connection with the affairs of the Henry P. Woods company.

The witnesses in the trial will be the same as those who appeared before the legislative committee that recently heard the Pierce case and reported favorably to the justice.

CORD TIRES

The section at the right was cut from a new Cord of the same size. Careful measurements show that only 1/3 of the tread of the tire on the Yellow Cab has been worn away after this long, gruelling test. The carcass is intact after more than 11,000,000 revolutions.

Firestone Cords have averaged over 10,000 miles on Chicago Yellow Cabs (1,200 cabs all Firestone equipped). In thousands of instances, they have given from 15,000 to 30,000 miles.

Look at the tread—scientifically angled against skid, massive and heavy in the center where the wear comes, tapered at the edges to make steering easy and to protect the carcass against destructive hinging action of high tread edges. The carcass is air bag expanded to insure uniform tension and paralleling of every individual cord. It is double "gum dipped" to make sure that each cord is thoroughly insulated with rubber.

This is the reason why Firestone Cords unfailingly deliver extraordinary mileage. It explains the unanimous demand of thoughtful tire buyers for these values. The local Firestone dealer will continue to provide the personal service that makes Firestone tire comfort and economy complete.

DAISY DAY

Saturday, May 27th

For the benefit of the widows and children of our dead war heroes and needy former service men.

Daisies will be sold on the streets of Lowell, Saturday, May 27, under the auspices of Lowell Post 87, American Legion and Auxiliary Relief for Lowell Service Men.

You are courteously urged to assist in this worthy cause by purchasing and wearing a daisy on that day and thereby show that you have not forgotten what was accomplished by these men.

Checks may be sent in advance to Dr. C. B. Livingston, Treasurer Daisy Day Committee, 258 Merrimack Street.

Pope Says Mass to Thousands of Pilgrims

ROME, May 25.—Pope Pius was to celebrate mass in the Basilica of St. Peter's today before the thousands of pilgrims attending the International Eucharistic Congress. This afternoon the delegates make a pilgrimage to the Catacombs of St. Calixtus, where impressive ceremonies will take place in the subterranean caverns which afforded refuge for the early Christian martyrs. A solemn adoration in Santa Maria Sopra Minerva follows this ceremony.

4 Killed, 27 Wounded in Belfast

BELFAST, May 25.—(By the Associated Press)—The total casualties in the series of disorders which swept Belfast last night and today are placed at four dead and 27 wounded. The wounded included only those cases treated in hospitals. It is unofficially declared that the curfew law will probably be extended to include the country districts. Two of the 20 persons wounded in the bombing of tram cars filled with shipyard workers last evening, died in the night.

PLANE WRECKED, FLIERS SAFE

WORCESTER, May 25.—Major C. H. Woolley and Capt. H. W. Layson, Jr., both of Boston, escaped injury yesterday when a government airplane in which they were flying from Framingham to Worcester plunged 200 feet and landed near Holy Cross college. The aviators leaped as the machine neared the ground and escaped without a scratch, but the biplane was demolished. The aviators could not account for the accident, the first intimation of trouble being when the motor suddenly stopped.

AN IMPORTANT RULING

Lowell Man's Case Without Precedent in History of Accident Board

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, May 25.—Manuel Tashera of Lowell, formerly employed as a picker tender in the Tremont & Suffolk mills, has won from the industrial accident board an award of $187.58 in a case which is without precedent in the history of the board, and which establishes a precedent which will doubtless prove of value to employees in the future.

David T. Dickinson of the board, to whom the case was referred for decision, allows Mr. Tashera $120 for the loss of one phalanx of his left thumb; permits him to receive disability compensation during such time as he may be unable to work because of the injury; and also establishes a new theory with reference to the average weekly earnings of an employee.

Under the compensation law, average weekly earnings are determined by dividing a worker's aggregate earnings for a year by 52. In periods of business depression, this method, obviously, works to the disadvantage of the worker.

In his latest decision, Mr. Dickinson takes occasion to point out that the intent of the compensation act is to reach a fair normal average, based on the usual course of business, and not to further penalize an employee because of time lost through slack business.

He therefore has decided that in this case the computation is to be made upon the basis of a 48-hour week, that being the ordinary number of hours of employment when business was good, as it was at the time Tashera entered the employ of the Tremont & Suffolk mills. The effect of this is to raise the average weekly earnings of the man from $8.59, as previously allowed, to $13.88, and to require the insurance company involved to pay him $17.55 in addition to what he has already received.

The decision, as stated above, marks a new principle in the administration of the workmen's compensation act, the basis of which appears to be the conditions prevailing at the time a worker enters into employment.

"It is ruled that on the facts in this case," Mr. Dickinson says, "where an employee has been employed regularly for a considerable period by the subscriber, and there were intervals of time in which he was not able to work, because of illness in business during the year preceding the injury, that such inability or lack of work is lost time according to the meaning and provisions of the workmen's compensation act; and it is therefore to be deducted in computing the average weekly wages. If this employee had entered the employ the year preceding the injury, when the establishment was running on part time, on account of dullness in business, it might present a different question, although it would appear that in any situation it was in accordance with the intention of the compensation act to reach a fair normal or average, based on the usual course of business; and that the time in which the employee did not work by reason of dullness should be deducted as lost time."

FRATERNAL NEWS

A regular meeting of Lowell lodge, 618, L.O.O.M. was held last evening in Odd Fellows building with Dictator Edward St. Leger in the chair. Five new members were initiated and several applications for membership were received. Routine business was transacted and it was announced that during June, July and August, but one meeting a month will be held. A social hour was held and interesting remarks were made by V. L. Picard, Frank J. Lambert, P. B. Monahan, A. Lichamus and George M. Dube.

Women's Relief Corps
Mrs. Alice Welch presided over the special meeting of the Women's Relief Corps, 75, G.A.R., which was held last evening. Plans for the Memorial Day observance were made and it was announced that a meeting of the corps will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in preparation for attendance at the services at the First Congregational church. On May 30 luncheon and dinner will be served at Memorial hall.

Ladd & Whitney Circle
At last evening's meeting of Ladd & Whitney circle L. of G.A.R. services were held in honor of the deceased members of the organization. Plans were made to attend the memorial services at the Calvary Baptist church next Sunday at 10:30 o'clock and the First Congregational church at 3 o'clock, while at 5:30 p. m. the organization will attend the service at the Spiritualist church. It was announced that a joint observance of Flag day will be held in Memorial hall on the evening of June 14. The members of the circle, who passed away during the past year were as follows:

Sister Lizzie M. Small, Sept. 21, 1921; Comrade William H. Eastbrook, June 16, 1921; Comrade Augustus V. Hovey, Sept. 2, 1921; Comrade Jacob R. Smith, December 20, 1921; Stephen E. Sweetser, March 17, 1922; Franklin Jaquith, May 9, 1922.

BANKERS' CONFERENCE TO HOLD INTERNATIONAL YACHTING RACE

Germany Said to Oppose Hermer's Proposals for Balancing Budget

PARIS, May 25 (by the Associated Press).—The second day of the international bankers' conference finds the situation less reassuring than the first for, according to Berlin advice, the German government is not unlikely to reject Finance Minister Hermer's proposals for balancing the budget which the reparations commission found acceptable.

Such a step would considerably add to the already monumental task of straightening out the European financial tangle.

J. P. Morgan, who admittedly dominates the conference, will not be influenced by sentimental or diplomatic considerations. It is stated, and will require tangible securities which can be readily controlled.

The bankers are approaching the question of a loan to Germany by informing themselves of that country's economic arrangements and resources. They also have before them information respecting Germany's finances gathered by the reparations commission.

More than 2,000,000 girls under the age of 16 are employed in various occupations in the United States.

Two women are members of the Kansas City board of aldermen.

NEW YORK, May 25.—An international yachting race will be held June 1, 8 and 10 in Manhattan bay, off Bay side, between miniature craft measuring only six and seven feet from stem to stern.

It will be the first international miniature yachting race in which the United States ever has participated.

Selection of the boats which will represent America in the challenge race will be announced within a few days by a jury of yachtsmen who witnessed the trials recently held by the leading clubs. Forty-six craft were built for the tests.

The boats, which are limited to a length of 45 inches on the water line, are too small to carry a helmsman, so the skipper follows in an especially built skiff, easily handled and turned, from which he mans the sails. The tiny yachts in a good breeze to windward go as fast as four and five miles an hour. They have a full equipment of sails.

The international races will be held over three-mile courses.

MRS. H. A. TAYLOR

DO YOU SUFFER? BACKACHE OR PAIN OVER KIDNEYS?

Wonderful Relief is Here Told

Utica, N. Y.—"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets for kidneys and backache. I have never known a medicine that would give such quick relief. For some time past I had been suffering with kidney disorder, my back would be lame through the region of the kidneys and I also suffered with rheumatism and stiffness of the joints. Just recently I learned of Anuric and began its use. I have only taken it a very short time but have derived wonderful relief. My kidneys have become active and seemingly in a normal state and I do not suffer with backaches and stiffness of the joints. To those who suffer as I did I would suggest Dr. Pierce's Anuric."—Mrs. H. A. Taylor, 203 Knox street.

This anti-uric-acid remedy of Dr. Pierce's for backache and kidneys (called "An-uric") is new, but it can be had at your neighborhood drug store, or send 10c for trial pkg. to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo.—Adv.

DEBATE BILL TO STOP GAMBLING IN CUBA

HAVANA, May 25.—Insurgents in the house of representatives, continuing their attack on the administration last night, called in an attempt to force suspension of the rules for consideration of a bill to abolish gambling throughout Cuba.

The debate centered around the administration's methods of conducting the national lottery and carrying out the "tourist encouragement law" by which hotels, houses, racing and legal gambling under the management of Americans are permitted.

For lottery tickets alone, speakers declared, the Cuban public spends approximately $30,000,000 annually, while the sums wagered on cock fights, jai alai, indoor tennis and other sports far exceeds that amount.

HOUSE REJECTS BRIDGE BILL

BOSTON, May 25.—The Massachusetts house of representatives yesterday rejected, by a standing vote of 80 to 33, the bill for the construction of four drawless bridges over the Charles river to take the place of existing structures between Boston and Cambridge and between Boston and Woburn. The measure had passed the senate and the house committee on counties had recommended it be rejected.

The house refused to accept the report of the committee on conference on the so-called "County Control" bill, but after an earnest appeal for harmony by Speaker Young, who took the floor for the second time this session, voted to appoint a new committee on conference.

The action was preceded by a lengthy debate when the report of the conference committee had been rejected by a vote of 101 to 42.

Speaker Young appointed as members of that committee Messrs. Keniston of Boston, Graves of Springfield and Sawyer of Ware.

Without debate or division the house passed to be engrossed the bill for state-wide fire prevention regulations to conform with those of the metropolitan district.

Two Unanimous Rollcalls

Two rollcalls in succession on an uncontested measure was one of the unusual incidents of yesterday's session. The measure in question provides for enlarged platform space in the Chamber of Deputies at Harvard square. The first rollcall was on the adoption of an emergency preamble, and the second because the bill provided for the state borrowing money under given conditions. There was not a single "No" on either.

By a rollcall vote of 150 to 53, the house sustained the governor's veto of the bill providing for the appointment of Richard Williams as a member of the fire department of Quincy.

GREENHALGE SCHOOL DEFEATS MOREY

On the South common yesterday, the Greenhalge school team of the Grammar school league defeated the Morey school team by the score of 5 to 3. This victory puts the Greenhalge team in second place, the theme of the latter team in yesterday's game was as follows: Joyal P. Beauregard, Murphy 1b, (capt.) Kay 2b, Cashman 3b, Hammer 4b, Fennell 5b, Kosciolok 6b, and Nault 7b.

HOW TO REDUCE VARICOSE VEINS

Many people have become dependent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.

If you will get a two-dram original bottle of Monnet's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first class drug store and apply it at home as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

Monnet's Emerald Oil is very concentrated and a little lasts a long time, that's why it is a most inexpensive treatment. It has brought much comfort to worried people all over the country and is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and always bear in mind that anyone who is disappointed with his use can have their money refunded. URGES FORCEFUL METHOD OF TEACHING BIBLE

BOSTON, May 25.—Dr. Charles P. Gaston of New York, president of the National Council of Teachers of English, speaking to the Unitarian Sunday School society here today, stressed the necessity for new and forceful methods of teaching the Bible in church schools. He advocated the project method, adding "the church school should give the pupils something of worship through projects for the encouragement of worship."

"In most cases," Dr. Gaston said, "the work of the church school should have a missionary aspect; the school should reach out to others less fortunate. Missions should be in a sense part of the action of every church school. These four things seem to be the special function of the church school; knowledge of the Bible; knowledge of right worship; building up in personal and social ideals, and encouraging and developing missionary spirit and ideals."

Dr. Gaston suggested that as departures from the usual methods of teaching the Bible time should be spent in reading, in listening to music, and in playing a game of studying particular parts of the Bible.

Dramatization of interesting Old Testament stories for indoor and outdoor performances were also suggested.

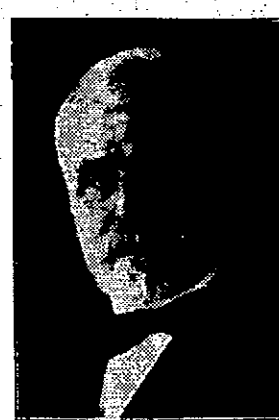

Doctor at 82 Finds Mothers Prefer His Formula to New-Fangled Salts And Coal Tar Remedies for Babies

Judgment of 1892 vindicated by world's approval of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a simple vegetable compound for constipation—So safe thousands give it to babies—Now has largest sale in the world.

WHEN a man is in the 83rd year of his age, as I am, there are certain things he has learned that only time can teach him. The basis of treating sickness has not changed since I left Medical College in 1875, nor since I placed on the market the laxative prescription I had used in my practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of my Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other mild laxative herbs with pepsin.

Recently new medicines have been brought out for constipation that contain calomel, which is mercury, salts of various kinds, minerals, and coal tar. These are all drastic purges, many of them dangerous, and the medical profession is warning the public against them. Certain coal tar products will depress the heart; certain salts give rise to intestinal poisoning, impaction and rupture of the intestines. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with pills and powders and strong drugs, even if disguised in candy? My remedy, too, costs less than most others, only about a cent a dose. A bottle such as you can find in any drug store, will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the babe in arms because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal.

The formula of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is on the cover of every bottle, and the ingredients have the endorsement of the U. S. Pharmacopoeia.

$10,000 Worth of Syrup Pepsin Free

In remembrance of my 83rd birthday I have set aside the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars to be given away in half-dozen bottles of my Syrup Pepsin. Only one Free Trial bottle to a family. All are constipated now and then, and here is an opportunity for you and others to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin FREE OF CHARGE. Ask for your free bottle today, simply sending name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 514 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Do not postpone this.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL MEETING

At a meeting of the Trades and Labor council, held last evening and presided over by President Charles E. Anderson, routine business was transacted, numerous communications were read and the committee in charge of the recent dance for the benefit of the textile strikers made a report to the effect that the receipts of the event were very substantial. Votes of thanks were extended to the Permanent Firemen's association for its gift of $25 to the strikers and the assistance rendered by the organization at the recent dance; to Local 138, I. A. of M. for the free use of its hall for the dance; to the Lowell Musicians' union and Saunders' Public Market for the assistance rendered in making the dance a success.

In the course of the meeting plans were made for the "Dollar Day" to be conducted in this city for the benefit of the strikers next Saturday. According to plans, people employed in the textile mills, that are not affected by the strike, as well as those friendly to the labor movement, will be asked to donate one dollar each for the strikers' fund.

An unsolicited donation of $25 for the local textile strikers was received. The gift was from Cyrus S. and Agnes Fidler, proprietors of the Boston Ladies' Outfitters in Merrimack street. It was in the form of a cheque and was accompanied by the following letter:

Sirs—Enclosed you will find cheque for $25. At any time you need help let us know. Yours very truly, CYRUS AND AGNES FIDLER.

This is the second donation received from Mr. and Mrs. Fidler during the past few weeks, the other being to the amount of $10.

OBSERVE FEAST OF THE ASCENSION

Special masses were celebrated in all the local Catholic churches this morning, in honor of the feast of the Ascension. In every church the masses were well attended and there were many communicants. Three, and in some cases, four low masses were celebrated in each church, with a high mass following. This evening the usual services will take place, with benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. At St. Anne's Episcopal church this morning a celebration of holy communion and a brief address were conducted at 10 o'clock, in observance of the feast of the Ascension. A large number of communicants were present.

CUTBILL ACCUSED OF PROFESSIONALISM

HARTFORD, Conn., May 25.—Charges of professionalism brought against Hal Cutbill, Boston's "dying parson," will be investigated by the Connecticut branch of the Amateur Athletic union tonight. The charges were brought following Cutbill's appearance in an indoor track meet held here Feb. 23 last. Cutbill will not be present, having stated by letter that graduation exercises demand his presence in Boston.

Simplicity Will Mark the Graduation Garb

TWO OF THE SEASON'S FASHIONABLE STYLES IN HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATION GOWNS

BY MARIAN HALE

You may side with the medical profession and declare the flapper to be the hit of this generation—or you may cast your vote with the faction who sees in her a menace to our social structure.

But you may be sure she will go right ahead defying traditions and leaving her mark on everything she touches.

You feel her influence nowhere more strongly than in our annual institution, soon to be solemnized, the high school commencement.

There was a time, not so long ago, when a girl's graduation frock was long, and her hair was done high on her head, to indicate her playtime was over.

These days, however, the flapper now finishes school in the same casual, detached way she does everything else.

Gone are the frills, the white satin ribbons, the yards of lace and the low-cut gowns. The 1922 graduation frock is so simple it is almost a uniform.

"For a long time teachers and parents tried to regulate the extravagance of girl graduates," a saleswoman in one of New York's largest department stores, told me.

In many schools teachers insisted upon a uniform of a middie blouse and skirt, so that all the girls might have an equal chance.

"Often they found it advisable to limit the number of flowers a girl might carry, and sometimes they abolished them altogether."

"Now such measures are not neces-

INQUEST INTO DEATH MYSTERY

Officials Again Seek to Determine Cause of Lieut. McGilvary's Death

Body, Bearing Four Bullet Wounds, Found in Alley in Boston a Year Ago

BOSTON, May 25.—An inquest into a year-old death mystery, the shooting of Lieut. Paton G. McGilvary, a former army aviator, was reopened today. It had been suspended for several months, after brief sessions called in an attempt to clear up conflicting indications of suicide and of murder.

McGilvary's body, bearing four bullet wounds, was found in an alley in the Back Bay district here on May 10, 1921. The revolver used apparently was his own. Only two of the four discharged cartridges were found. He had been in financial straits and had left a note regarded as a farewell to Mrs. Evelyn Clifford, a friend.

Relatives and friends insisted after independent inquiries here that McGilvary had been murdered. The medical examiner's report was that death occurred "in a manner unknown." Medical Examiner Timothy J. Leary, however, said that first indications were definitely of suicide and that when these became less clear later, he asked for an inquest by Chief Justice Foster of the municipal court to that the investigation might be thorough. District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier, after a brief inquiry at the time, announced that McGilvary was a suicide.

Relatives of McGilvary caused Wisconsin pathologists to hold an autopsy on the body after it was sent to McGilvary's home for burial. Their report was that he was a victim of murder. Medical Examiner Leary said he could not subscribe to such a finding.

The occasion for reopening the inquest today was not announced.

NEGRO WHO ESCAPED MOB NOW SAFE IN JAIL

Macon, Ga., May 25.—Jim Benson, negro youth, whose appeal from a death sentence was carried without avail to the supreme court of the United States and who early this week narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of a mob, was safe today in Bibb county jail.

"He sho' mighty proud to be here," was Jim's smiling comment, even though the sentence to hang June 15 for an alleged attack on an aged white woman, three years ago, still stares him in the face. Jim, however, had some reason to smile, beyond his escape from the mob, because numerous white persons in this and Wilkinson county, believing his escape was an act of Providence, were considering an appeal to Gov. Hardwick for commutation to life imprisonment.

Papacostas was found guilty in lower court but appealed. He was also found guilty in superior court recently and paid a fine of $100.

The Second Raid

On the night of April 18 the liquor squad again descended upon the place. It was on this charge that he was arraigned today. Officer Lynch testified that he saw Papacostas pass a bottle to a man named Speed in the doorway of 509. Lynch followed the defendant into the bar and attempted to find some contraband. In the meantime the remainder of the party searched the premises at 509 and found several gallons of wine in an unoccupied tenement on the third floor. An attempt was made to put in the evidence this morning, but Lawyer Hogan objected on the grounds that connection could not be shown between the defendant and the liquor. His objection was sustained by the court.

Atty. Hogan's big contention was that the passing of the bottle in the doorway of 509 and the subsequent events in the barroom were two separate and distinct transactions and that they should be treated as such. He argued, however, that the evidence was inadmissible on the ground that circumstances of the case could be brought in.

When Officer Clyde Aldrich was on the stand he and Atty. Hogan had several spilted tils and the lawyer objected to many parts of his testimony. Aldrich told the court said the place and how he saw a bottle passed from one man to another in the saloon in the defendant's presence.

Atty. Hogan did not put his client on the stand, claiming that the government had not made out a case. In pursuing the sources the court said that he could not find the man other than guilty in view of the fact that an officer testified that drunken man had been seen coming out of the place, that suspicious liquid had been found in a drain and that a bottle of contraband had been passed in the presence of the defendant.

The Neary Case

Regarding Neary, whose place was raided on April 29 and samples of cider taken, some of which were found to contain more alcohol than the law allows, Atty. Dennis J. Neary offered an unusual defense. He claimed that between the time the cider was seized and the time it was analyzed by the chemists there had been time for sufficient fermentation to take place which would raise the alcoholic content of the cider.

Neary's place at 122 Church street was raided, but no liquor was found. A quantity of cider was exposed on the bar for 10 cents a drink. Samples of this were taken. Samples were also taken from four barrels found in another part of the building. One of the samples showed alcoholic content of 4.37 per cent, while another showed less than 3 per cent, the amount which is allowed. The analysis was shown to have taken place on May 2. Atty. Murphy contended that packing the stuff in a hot place and sending it through the express might raise the alcoholic content.

Toussaint Harzigan pleaded guilty to illegal keeping and was fined $100, which he paid. Patrick Donohoe also pleaded guilty to a like charge and paid $100.

Counsel Gives up Guns

Continued

If he arrived in White Plains some time today and talked. What he says, I believe, may be of great value in tracing the hidden depths of the story Ward tells.

The Peters family in Haverhill, Mass., claims to have a postcard from young Peters from South Carolina dated early in May. Peters was released by the Marine Corps on May 11. Allowing for the shortest possible time Peters could not have arrived in New York before May 13, and he went on his death ride on the night of May 15. The blackmail plot had been going on for six weeks, according to Ward's story.

The statement of police from surrounding towns that Peters was seen on Ward holding company trucks several times before his death was made known to the authorities here and would indicate that Peters was about Ward for some time before the killing occurred.

Investigators employed by the Peters family have notified the authorities here that they are trying to run to earth the reports that Ward may have known Peters in Boston, which would date the acquaintanceship back of the time that the dead sailor tried to enlist in the Marines.

Sheriff George Werner says he has the gun used by Ward.

"I can produce Ward's gun when it is needed," said the sheriff. "And it will show that more than one shot was fired."

"How about Peter's gun?" he was asked.

"I can't say anything about that," he replied. The sheriff displayed the garments.

found on Peters and showed that a bullet had pierced the vest and shirt in front and passed through the coat, vest and shirt in back. This indicated, he said, that Peters must have had his coat open when the shot that killed him was fired.

Considerable mystery has surrounded the whereabouts of the two weapons alleged to have been held by Ward and Peters, and many conflicting statements have come from official sources as to their discovery or non-discovery since young Ward surrendered.

One of the weapons, alleged to have been Ward's, was a new .33-calibre

Colt's automatic, which ejects empty shells. The sheriff said Ward's attorney had turned over with the gun two empty shells, one of which they claimed had been found under the driver's seat in the coupe. And the other on the road.

"No one has found the third shell and no one knows why the gun is now empty," said the sheriff.

The other weapon was a .32-calibre Smith A. Wesson, a five-shot gun which does not eject empty shells. In it were found unexploded cartridges and one shell.

According to Ward's story, Peters fired only once but "Charlie Ross" alleged to have been present with another man known only as "Jack," called the trigger four times.

"I would not give you this information unless the case was pretty well cleared up," the sheriff told reporters.

The sheriff announced that shortly after Ward had surrendered the New York police had been asked to send out a description of "Ross" and "Jack" but that no general alarm had as yet been circulated.

"Ross" was described as 27 years old, 5 feet 7, dark complexion, smooth face and well dressed. "Jack" was said to be the same height, of pale complexion, with scarred hands and the dress of a chauffeur.

Train Wrecks Trolley—32 Injured

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 25.—Thirty-two persons were injured, several seriously, today when a crowded Interurban trolley car on the lines of the Birmingham Railway, Light & Power Co., was struck and broken into two parts by a freight train on the Alabama Great Southern railroad line at Woodlawn station. Confusion in following signals of a crossing flagman was said to have caused the accident.

200 Pickets Dispersed by Police

PAWTUCKET, R. I., May 25.—About 200 pickets today gathered near the Phillips Wire Works against which a strike was declared eight months ago. They were dispersed by the police who were armed with night sticks and riot guns. Before the police arrived there was considerable hooting and jeering at the workers. Later two strike sympathizers were arrested on the charge of revelling. Arnuncio Praya was fined $20 and costs.

PHONE TRANSMITS FROM THROAT

The operator at the new "aerial lighthouse" at College Point, N. Y., wears the most novel radiophone head gear in existence. Not only are the earpieces encased in leather, for sound efficiency, but the transmitter is attached to the throat by a band around the neck. This "mouthpiece" picks up the vibrations of the vocal cords through the muscle and membrane of the throat.

RADIO PRIMER

Impedance—Resistance offered by a wire to a current flowing through it, due to the pressure of an opposed electrical flow. This is irrespective of the actual resistance of the conductor in ohms. Impedance, instead of being a resistance, is the result of a reaction.

GLORIOUS FUTURE FOR RADIO INDUSTRY

By ALEXANDER EISEMANN
President, National Radio Chamber of Commerce

NEW YORK, May 25.—There are approximately 1,500,000 radio sets now in use in the United States—and the number is increasing daily.

Last September, there were less than 200,000.

In New York alone a small group of radio equipment manufacturers report unfilled orders totaling nearly $30,000,000.

The newest infant industry is growing rapidly.

Eventually it should exceed the automobile and phonograph in popularity. But it still has a long way to go. There are 10,000,000 automobiles in the country and 6,000,000 phonographs.

Every home is a potential radio station.

What's Coming

Statesmen, preachers, lecturers and other leaders are beginning to realize that personality can be extended by radio with far greater effectiveness than by the use of the written or printed word.

When the fall comes, radio enthusiasm will rise to a new high pitch.

Political candidates will be elected by the programs they broadcast.

Radio will become a public utility.

In the mad rush to get into the new business, many guileless investors have been taken in by persons who posed as radio experts. All they had was a smattering of wireless. But securing capital they launched into the production of equipment without proper preparation or experience.

As a result there has been a mushroom growth of radio set manufacturers almost overnight.

Some of their products are satisfactory; most of them are not.

Tips to Buyers

When making a purchase, ask the dealer to show you the inside of the set.

If all connections are not soldered, the wires will become loose and reception will be impossible.

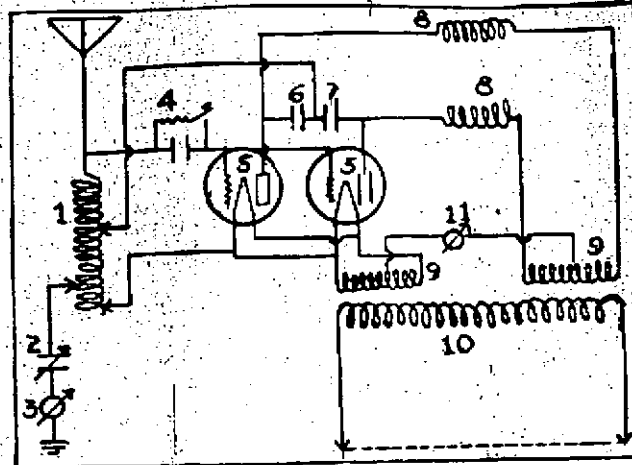

If paste or solder is spread carelessly over the wiring, or if dirt has accumulated inside the receiving box, trouble will result.

If fillings have been allowed to get into the telephone, the attraction of the magnets will gradually cause them to work their way through the insulation and render the phone worthless.

Watch out for these difficulties and avoid the disappointment that comes when a radio enthusiast gets all set to listen in, but can't.

Powerful Telegraph Transmitting Set

HOOK-UP OF TELEGRAPH TRANSMITTING SET, USING TWO 5-WATT POWER TUBES

By R. L. DUNCAN

Director, Radio Institute of America
Here is a hook-up for a telegraph transmitting set using two 5-watt power tubes:

No. 1—Oscillation transformer which consists of 24 turns of nickel-plated copper strip wire, size .06 by 1/8 inches, supplied with clips for accurate adjustment of wave length. The size of this bit of apparatus is 1 1/2 inches in height, 9 1/2 inches long and 5 1/2 inches wide.

No. 2—Series condenser of .001 microfarads capacity for control of wave length.

No. 3—Antenna ammeter with scale reading from 0 to 25 placed in ground lead. This is used to measure the output or radiation.

No. 4—Grid leak transmitting key and grid condenser. The grid leak should have a resistance of approximately 5000 ohms. While the sending key may be one of the ordinary kind, it is preferable that it be one especially made for G. W. transmission with 1/4-inch interchangeable, sterling silver contact points. The grid condenser should have .002 microfarads capacity rated at 3000 volts.

No. 5—Power tubes rated at 5 watts each.

No. 6 and 7—Radio frequency bypass fixed condensers of .002 microfarads capacity rated at 3000 volts.

No. 8—Radio frequency choke coils with inductance of 0.5 millihenry, consisting of about 80 turns of No. 30 insulated wire wound on tube 2 1/2 inches in diameter and 2 1/2 inches long.

No. 9—Secondary windings of power transformer.

No. 10—Primary windings of power transformer.

No. 11—Plate current milliammeter.

The power transformer should be one with a double secondary. The plate windings should have a 175-volt output, and 110 volts between outside wires.

The filament winding should have an output of 75 watts, 7.5 volts. The primary of the transformer should be supplied with 102.5 to 115 volts A.C. at 60 to 60 cycles.

A transmitter using two 5-watt vacuum tubes will cover a considerable area, depending on the location, size and height of aerial.

The antenna should be of the center type using counterpoise of flat-top type two-wire aerial.

Amateurs using such a set have spanned the ocean by radio.

(This concludes the series of articles which Mr. Duncan has been writing for the radio column of The Sun.)

NIGHT AIR MAIL SOON TO BE INAUGURATED

BOSTON, May 25.—The night air mail will soon be a feature of Uncle Sam's postal service. While the nation is sleeping the great mail planes will be scooting through the air from coast to coast bearing messages and other exchanges between east and west, according to Col. Paul Henderson, second assistant postmaster general.

Col. Henderson is head of the air mail which operated more than 40 weeks without a single accident and with a schedule maintained practically all the time. He said:

"We have come to the conclusion that the air mail has reached its limit operating only by day, because the railways afford a 24-hour-a-day service. For several months we have been arranging for night flying. Two big tasks were to be done; one, equipping of all mail planes with day and night lights; the other, establishing of aerial light-houses or electric beacons and flood lights at emergency and regular mail fields at approximate distances of 30 to 40 miles, all the way across the continent between New York and San Francisco. We are doing these things at present.

"Our 14 mail fields are equipped with radio stations and we hope to have the first of the planes equipped with radio by June 1. They will have wireless telephones and radio direction finders. By using the direction finder a pilot will be able to keep on his route in darkness, storm or fog, and the beacons at his objective will guide him directly over the field, when the floodlights will be turned on, enabling him to land as easily as in daylight.

DEADLOCK ON THE BONUS BILL

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The republican members of senate finance committee have practically reached an impasse on the soldiers' bonus bill, half of the membership favoring the Smoot plan for paid-up insurance policies for the veterans and half favoring the McCumber plan for certificates to be issued to the veterans upon which they can borrow money as in the house bill. This situation developed at a meeting of the republican members yesterday, when Senator McClean of Connecticut, swung over to the Smoot plan.

In view of this situation, Chairman McCumber, it was said yesterday, has determined to call in the democratic members of the committee, and a meeting of full committee probably will be held Friday or Saturday.

From democratic sources it was learned that the democratic members of the committee are inclined to favor the McCumber certificate plan. That being the case, it is expected that the bill, as finally drafted and reported to the senate will in many respects resemble the house bill.

The land features of the house bill, however, will be eliminated or considerably altered.

Senator McCumber for a time expected to hear from the president in regard to the bonus matter. But it now appears that the president intends to leave it entirely to the senators to struggle with this tangle. Senator Watson, of Indiana, a republican member of the finance committee, who has taken an active part in the bonus matter, is expected to return to Washington in time for the meeting Friday or Saturday.

STRENGTH RESTORED G. O. P. LEADERS APPEAL

Mrs. Frank Letourneau, No. 5 Pine street, Waterville, Me., suffered for two weeks from an attack of influenza which left her in a serious condition. "I was so weak I could hardly walk about the house," she says, "and was dizzy a great deal of the time. I had backaches and trembled so much that I had to rest a lot. I had no appetite, my stomach was so weak that I could eat only the lightest food and I was so nervous that every noise would sound in my head like a blow of a hammer."

"I had medical treatment with but little benefit. One day I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they were just what I needed. Soon the dizziness disappeared and I slept well at night. I kept on with the pills and they restored my strength. My nerves became stronger and I was benefited in every way."

"My daughter also took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and became entirely well and strong."

HORSE SENDS FOUR MEN TO HOSPITAL

WALTHAM, May 25.—A horse attached to a wagon of the sewer department and hitched to a weight became frightened at Main and Linden streets yesterday afternoon. It knocked over a fence and an automobile and sent four men to the Waltham hospital, one of them seriously injured.

When the horse started to bolt, Patrick Kelley, the driver jumped for the bridge. But the horse broke away from Kelley and bolted across the street, the weight lashing about him.

Because of the weight he was unable to go in a straight line, and swerved onto the sidewalk, knocking over a fence. He then dashed into the street again, hit the automobile and pitched the three occupants to the street.

The most seriously injured is J. W. Thompson. He was jammed between the wagon and the automobile.

The others injured are Kelley, Peter Robson of Hudson, the operator of the car, and J. F. Brady.

FRANCE TO PROTECT RUMANIA'S CLAIMS

PARIS, May 25. (By the Associated Press).—Steps have been taken to place France on record as agreeing to protect Rumania's claims to Bessarabia, Vice Premier Barthou announced in an address last night at a dinner given in honor of the Rumanian premier, M. Bratiano.

M. Bratiano kept his promise, made in 1919, to block the path against the Bolsheviks, said M. Barthou. "Today I have signed a bill guaranteeing Bessarabia to Rumania which I trust will pass."

IMPRESS UPON MEMBERS NECESSITY OF ATTENDANCE AT SENATE SESSIONS

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Republican senate leaders planned today to impress forcibly again on their membership the necessity of attendance at the senate sessions while the tariff bill is under consideration. They had planned a party conference for that purpose.

Again last night there was difficulty in obtaining a quorum with the result that the senate machinery was halted for nearly an hour. There was a similar experience the night before.

STATE FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

NEW BEDFORD, May 25.—Showered with flowers, the retiring officers of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs made their final appearance as officers at the last session of the state federation's annual meeting here this morning. An armful of flowers were also presented to the incoming officers. The new president, Miss Grace M. Poole of Brockton, and the retiring president, Mrs. George Alcott Baker were almost hidden with flowers.

A farewell address by Mrs. Baker and the acceptance of a resolution thanking New Bedford for its gracious hospitality, were leading features of the morning. Mrs. Poole's speech of acceptance of the presidency referred to Mrs. Baker as "our spiritual president as Mrs. Herbert J. Quinsey was our war president."

The establishment of a $25,000 endowment fund was reported by the endowment chairman, Mrs. Arthur A. Hibbard of Milton, who said, "At last the time has come when we can spend our income."

Mrs. George O. Jenkins of Pittman, was elected a trustee of the federation endowment fund to serve for three years.

WOULD CONVENE OLD CHINESE PARLIAMENT

PEKING, May 25. (By the Associated Press).—Public opinion in China favors the reconvening of the old parliament, according to despatches to the Chinese press from various cities, and the delegates are assembling at Canton, Shanghai and Tien Tsin in the belief that they soon will be formally convened to assume direction of the nation's affairs.

BOSTON, May 25.—Airplanes and radiograms will be used tomorrow to carry to the people of New England the message of the Citizens' Military Training camp, to be held at Camp Devens August 1 to 31.

A proclamation by Gov. Channing H. Cox setting forth the advantage of the camp to the young men of Massachusetts will be broadcasted from the Medford radio station tomorrow evening. On the same evening Mrs. Clarence H. Edwards, wife of Gen. Edwards, commanding general of the 1st Corps Area, will speak by radio to the mothers of New England, inviting and urging their co-operation in spreading the idea of the camp and assisting in the recruiting campaign.

Applications are coming in from all parts of New England to the Military Training Camps association, room 315, 5 State st.

SUCCEEDS WHERE DOCTORS FAIL

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Often Does That.—Read Mrs. Miner's Testimony

Churubusco, N. Y.—"I was under the doctor's care for over five years for backache and had no relief from his medicine. One day a neighbor told me about your Vegetable Compound and I took it. It helped me so much that I wish to advise all women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles and backache. It is a great help in carrying a child, as I have noticed a difference when I didn't take it. I thank you for this medicine and if I ever come to this point again I do not want to be without the Vegetable Compound. I give you permission to publish this letter so that all women can take my advice."—Mrs. FRED MINER, Box 102, Churubusco, N. Y.

It's the same story over again. Women suffer from ailments for years. They try doctors and different medicines, but feel no better. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you can see its value in the case of Mrs. Miner.

That's the truth of the matter. If you are suffering from any of the troubles women have, you ought to try this medicine. It can be taken in safety by young or old, as it contains no harmful drugs.

Clean, clear, full-bodied. Watch the golden color when it is poured into your motor. It's unmistakable.

Watch the results also. You can't mistake them, either: No knocks, because you'll have no hard carbon and no pre-ignition. Surplus power, because your piston rings will seal the compression and your valves will be kept free. Perfect, regular firing, because your spark-plugs will be clean.

Light, medium, heavy and extra-heavy, it fits all cars and all conditions.

Drain out all the old oil in your crank-case. Refill with Texaco Motor Oil, and start out with a car that will deliver all the power and life its maker built into it.

HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PLANS MEMORIAL TO LATE CYRUS WENDELL IRISH

Association Also Honors Another Former High School Principal, the Late Frank W. Coburn—Meeting Last Night in High School Hall—Discussion of Changes in Modern Secondary Education

A fitting memorial in commemoration of the life and works of the late Cyrus Wendell Irish, former headmaster of the Lowell high school, was taken under consideration at a largely attended meeting of the High School Alumni Association, held last night in the school hall, and resulted in action being taken toward the accomplishment of the purpose in view. The first Street oval proposition also was brought before the meeting. The association voted to present the school with an oil painting of the late principal, at a cost of about $1000. The cost is to be taken care of by popular subscription. It was also voted, as an additional honor to the late Mr. Irish, that the school committee and the high school building commission be requested to name the new high school auditorium for the dead master, and the present high school hall for another principal, the late Frank W. Coburn. It was the unanimous opinion of those present that the latter should also be honored.

In regard to the stadium, no definite action was taken, as it was considered a matter for the city rather than the alumni association. All were urged, however, to assist in every way possible in advancing the undertaking, and the president was given the power to name a committee to look into the advisability of the alumni taking a part in the movement, to report at the next meeting. It was held at the hall of the city. One of the chief proponents of the stadium project was Councilor Smith J. Adams.

The changes in modern secondary education in 30 years were discussed by a former Lowell man, Albert E. Meredith, now commissioner of education for the state of Connecticut. He voiced his approval of the modern outdoor training which is available at such places as the projected oval in First street. He said that such work was beneficial to both teacher and pupil. Mr. Meredith's regard for the late headmaster was expressed in regretful, endearing style, and he expressed himself as hopeful of some action for the perpetuation of his memory.

Old School Days

Commissioner Meredith, in his remarks, told of old days at the school, laughable incidents and treasured memories of his experience with the teachers, particularly Miss Webster, Miss Watson, Miss Stevens and the late sub-master Frank W. Sherburne, beloved of all his former students. The change in the classes of the present day from those of 30 years ago, when a select circle was practically the entire attendance, was also commented upon. He urged the alumni to keep in touch with the present status of secondary education by means of personal contact and renewal of old acquaintance with the teachers.

At the beginning of the business session Mr. Harris suggested a painting of Elmore I. McPhie, the president was authorized to appoint a committee of five to arrange for the painting. James Roane, who claimed as much experience with Mr. Irish as anyone in Lowell, thought that the painting would not be enough, and suggested that the new high school auditorium be named for Mr. Irish.

Benett Silverblatt thought a memorial to Mr. Irish would be more suitable at the first street oval, but Mrs. Pearson, of the school committee questioned the wisdom of this suggestion.

ITALY AND RUSSIA SIGN TRADE TREATY

GENOA, May 25.—(By Associated Press)—The commercial treaty between Soviet Russia and Italy was signed in the Royal Palace at 4.50 yesterday afternoon.

The first section of the agreement concerns the entire problem of Italian-Russian commercial relations, the second deals with maritime communication, and the third deals with concessions which Russia is ready to make to Italians for the exploitation of Russian resources. The third section was objected to by Signor Schanzer as infringing upon the moral pledges taken by Italy with the European countries, but he represented at The Hague conference. If the concessions contained in the third section were accepted, in the opinion of the Italian foreign minister, the other countries might even suspect the existence of a secret political agreement between Italy and Russia.

Presumably the commercial treaty will become effective June 26, when the commercial convention concluded at Rome by M. Vorovsky expires.

Possibility of U. S. Being Asked to Mediate Chilean-Peruvian Dispute

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(By the Associated Press)—With the Chilean-Peruvian conference here approaching the end of its second week and still undecided over its important issues, there was widespread discussion in diplomatic circles today over help from the United States government to bring the two sides together.

At the state department it was said that no definite steps toward mediation had been taken, but in other quarters there were intimations that a plan to appeal to the department for advice had been discussed.

The two delegations were called together again today for a joint session after a two-day recess. Close secrecy was observed.

SEC. DAVIS REPORTS IMPROVED BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, May 25.—A picture of steadily reviving business activities throughout the country is drawn by Secretary Davis in a statement today based on reports of employment conditions to the department of labor. The reports indicate that unemployment has been "practically eliminated" in New York state. The secretary said that it has been reduced more than 60 per cent in the past three months in Pennsylvania. Conditions are also better in the Middle West, Mr. Davis said.

GENOA SHRINE OF PEACE, SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

LONDON, May 25.—Replying to a message from the Oxford Union society, paying tribute to his work at Genoa, Premier Lloyd George said he trusted and believed Genoa would be "the shrine of peace and tranquility to a disturbed world."

Acknowledging a message from the Welsh National parliamentary party, he said that Great Britain's struggle to solve Europe's present problems in a spirit of cooperation and peace was only beginning. He added that the Genoa conference had pointed the way, and that he was confident the goal would be reached.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

For the final week of vaudeville at the B. F. Keith theatre the Sharrocks Emma and Harry, are listed as features, with their unusually happy blend of vaudeville and comedy. "Behind the Grandstand" is the title of their act, and they give it with remarkable brilliancy. Stephens & Hollister, in their comedy act of California, "Back in Beverly Hills" are others who are tapdancers on the program, and Eddie Donahoe and John Hall local boys in their new musical act, range up well with any other similar team of the season. Other acts on the bill are: Dotson, lightning dancer; Officer Vokes & Don, in a trained dog act; The Recktors, society entertainers, and Paul Nolan & Co. in juggling.

THE STRAND

"Sky-High" the newest Tom Mix picture, which opens at the Strand today, is said to attain the highest speed record of the star's career on the film. It starts full speed ahead and continues at record pace throughout, ending with a climax that will actually "lift you from your seats." "What a thrill!" tell what it's all about. That wouldn't be fair. Suffice to say that it's fast as they make 'em—and that means very fast. The redoubtable star skims along the edge of the Grand Canyon with his favorite horse, Tony, and later you see him shooting through in an airplane and doing all kinds of stunts. His daring is surely thrilling.

Gladys Walton's figure is undeniably beautiful, with a suppleness and grace that is emphasized with artistic finish in this latest picture feature of hers.

Increases the action of the intestines

Hundreds of men and women have already found freedom from laxatives by eating Fleischmann's fresh yeast.

Doctors are now agreed that proper elimination of waste matter should be brought about by food. One doctor comes right out and states plainly that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is one of the causes of constipation.

Physicians all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast because it is a fresh food, rich in those elements which keep the intestines healthy. In one series of tested cases, normal functions were restored in from 3 days to 5 weeks.

Try it out for yourself. Begin today by adding 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast to your everyday diet. Keep it up and see how gradually and regularly your intestines act. "ORPHANS OF THE STORM"

From the cradle to adulthood it takes six persons to play the two foster sisters, Henriette and Louise Girard, in D. W. Griffith's picture epic, "Orphans of the Storm," a United Artists production, to be shown at the B. F. Keith's theatre, all next week.

Most people know that Lillian and Dorothy Gish play the two girls in this story, which is founded on "The Two Orphans," but there is an early history of Henriette and Louise that is told in the prologue, so two baby actors are used for the scenes on the Nutro Dams steps, where the two little foundlings are found side by side, and two actors for the children Henriette and Louise are used for the scenes of their home in Normandy.

Adventures of the Twins

TWINS IN TRIP TO MOON SEE COPY OF ICE.

"OH, ISN'T IT BEAUTIFUL!" NANCY GASEPED
The magic green shoes set the twins gently on top of a high mountain on the moon.

"Well, we're here!" said the mughroom, looking round curiously. "The old place hasn't changed much."
"Changed?" exclaimed Nick. "Why were you ever here before?"

"Well, I should say so!" answered the mughroom. "About 300 years ago.
One night the moon didn't show up and I had to find out the trouble."

"What was it?" asked Nancy, quickly.

"Just an eclipse. They're common enough and nobody bothers about 'em nowadays. But there was a to-do about it that time, I tell you! How do you like the place?"

The twins looked down from the great height where they were standing and their eyes grew bigger and bigger with wonder.

"Oh, isn't it beautiful!" Nancy gushed.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT AT THE NORMAL SCHOOL

Judge Says Women's
Tongues Are Responsible
for Heaps of Trouble

"If something could be done to curb women's tongues, we wouldn't hear half of these troubles," Iron out here," said Judge Thomas J. Enright in district court this morning, as he found Thomas J. Cushing and James Watterson guilty of disturbing the peace by fighting in a public street, and fined each of them $10. Appeals followed the findings in both instances.

From testimony offered it appeared that a scuffle, in which the two men engaged, was the result of conversation passing between two female members of the Cushing and Watterson households. Both parties had plenty of witnesses to put on the stand and much testimony was offered, but the court said that he was convinced that the law had been broken and that it was his duty to impose sentence.

John J. Ahern was found guilty of drunkenness and operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor and was fined $50 on the latter charge. The drunkenness complaint against him was filed.

The same punishment was meted out to Herbert N. Flanagan accused of the same offense. He was operating a motorcycle. His case was brought up yesterday but continued until today while it could be investigated.

The case involving Nicholas Delacoste and his alleged wife, who were charged with carrying a knife into the Tewksbury state hospital, came up again today but it was continued until tomorrow. When arraigned yesterday the defendant's actions aroused the suspicions of the court and he was ordered examined as to his sanity. As the examination was not possible yesterday, it was ordered today. Disposition of the case will be held up pending the report of the doctors.

LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL FIELD DAY TOMORROW

Tomorrow, the day set for the annual field day of the Lowell high school boys' regiment, will open with assembly at all the classes at 8:40. After one recitation period, they will be dismissed at 9:45, to reassemble at 12:30 for the real activities of the day.

The parade will leave the school on the stroke of one, and will march up Merrimack street to Moody, to Thayer, to Merrimack and down Merrimack past city hall, where it will pass in review before the mayor, council and school committee. From city hall the march will continue down Merrimack to Central, to Middlesex to Thayer, and to the common, where the day's exercises will begin promptly at 2 o'clock.

The usual program will be carried out: company drill, squad drill and individual competitive drill. At the close of the drill the prizes will be awarded, a pennant each to the two companies making the best showing in the competitive drill, and a third to the company making the best appearance. But the main part of the program will be given the commander of the company presenting the best appearance both in the drill and on the march to the common. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded the winners of the first, second and third honors in the individual competitive drill.

This year there will be eight individual medals, to be given to the squad which proves best in drill and appearance. A silver medal will go to the corporal, and a bronze medal to each of his subordinates. The best of the 102nd artillery regiment at Camp Devens.

The judges chosen for tomorrow's exercises are: Major Charles A. Rundell, Captain Harry Brown, Alfred Gifford and Percy E. Wilson, and Lieutenant James Driscoll.

In case of rain school sessions will be conducted as usual, and the field day exercises held on Monday.

WANTS TO RENT AN ASPHALT PLANT

City Engineer Kearney is in communication with several concerns in an effort to rent an asphalt plant for this summer and within a day or two expects to make arrangements whereby a plant will be shipped here and work may be started.

While it is not known how much this method of doing the asphalt road work will cost, the city engineer cites that two years ago a plant might have been rented from Warren Brown, for five cents per square yard of material laid. The hiring of a plant this year will be either on the per yard basis or on a straight monthly rental.

The engineer feels that eventually the city will purchase a plant of its own and with a thorough organization of city men to operate it, the cost of laying the asphalt would be less than charges under a contract, he believes.

IN MEMORIAM
In memory of Harold O'Donoghue, who died May 25, 1921:
The smile we loved so dearly,
The voice that seemed so sweet
We miss them all sincerely,
But soon again we'll meet.

MR. JOHN REGAN and Family.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of Harold O'Donoghue, who died May 25, 1921:
A year ago, dear Harold,
Your blue eyes closed in sleep
To look for a brighter world,
Where angels never weep.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN M. O'DONOGHUE and Brother Gregrine.

CARD OF THANKS
To those who by their kind and fraternal expressions of sympathy and floral tributes served to lighten the burden in the death of our son and brother, we extend our sincere thanks and heartfelt gratitude, and especially to the Lowell Bleachery, the fire department, and the yard department.

Frank W. Wright Will Pre-
side Over Teachers' Institute to Be Held Tomorrow

With Frank W. Wright, director of the state division of elementary and secondary education and normal schools, as presiding officer, the Teachers' Institute, will take place at the Lowell Normal school tomorrow, beginning at 9 a. m. and continuing, with an hour's intermission for luncheon, until 3 p. m.

Director Wright, in the capacity of presiding officer, will call the morning session to order at 9 o'clock. Opening exercises will be followed by greetings from Clarence M. Weed, acting principal of the Normal school. Community singing, under the direction of Miss Alice E. Damon, director of music at the school, is next in order, to be followed by an address on "Discipline in the School and the Home," by New Hampshire's commissioner of education, E. W. Butterfield. An interval of music will follow Mr. Butterfield's remarks, consisting of a group of negro spirituals, by Miss Lawrence, a member of the school's Junior choir. The musical period will be followed by teaching demonstrations and departmental conferences in English, Grades I, II, and III, will be demonstrated by Miss Lillian Alford and pupils from Tewksbury; Grades IV, V, and VI, by Miss Rita M. Hall and pupils from Black River; and Grades VII and VIII, by Miss Laura B. Demarais and pupils from Chelmsford.

Following the demonstrations and conferences Bernard M. Sheridan, superintendent of the Lawrence schools, will deliver an address on "Teaching English in the Elementary Schools." A musical period will follow the address, and Miss Fannie C. Whitmore, director of standards and guidance of the Reading public schools, will close the morning exercises with an address on "Checking Results and Adjustments to Elusive Pupils."

At 12:05 a recess will be taken for luncheon and sociability.

The short afternoon session will begin with a discussion of "Physical Education in the Public School Program," by Carl L. Schrader, supervisor of physical education in the department of education. Immediately afterward, Mr. Schrader, assisted by students of the Normal school, will give a demonstration.

TEXTILE STRIKERS ARE VERY OPTIMISTIC

Local textile strike conditions remain unchanged, but strike leaders are very optimistic.

The cheerful feeling prevailing at strike headquarters today was brought about by several reports concerning an increase of business in some of the mills. It was stated that the carding department of the Tremont & Suffolk mills, which has been practically at a standstill since a year ago last October, is now showing signs of activity and it is said that employees of that department, who have been idle since that portion of the mill shut down, have been sent for and are now busy at their machines. Strike leaders are of the opinion that within a short time the entire mill will be operating on a full-time schedule.

Another report has been received from the Musketquid mill to the effect that the mill officials are calling back some of their help, who have been idle for a long time. It is said at strike headquarters that the employees of the Musketquid are expecting a five per cent increase in wages.

From employees of the Mohair Plush Co. comes the report that looms, idle for a long time, are starting up again. Favorable reports are also being received from several other local mills and the general feeling is that before the summer is over the output of the local industries will have reached normal again.

James McLaughlin, Charles Brackett, Admiral Farragut camp, S. of V. T. P. Bartlett, P. Fletcher, J. G. Parker, A. D. Adams, the latter delegation acting as bearers. Other delegations attending were as follows: James A. Garfield, W.R.G., 33, Mrs. Alice M. Schofield, Mrs. Dexter, Mrs. Phelps, auxiliary, Mrs. Bartlett, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. Lawson, Mrs. Dickey, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Stouffer, Walker-Rogers post 682, V. of F.W. com. George D. Crowell, Adjt. NO DECISION IN BROSAN CASE

No decision will be given for some time in the case of Patrick T. Brosnan, administrator of the estate of Thomas J. Brosnan, vs. Marjula A. Gage, which went to trial Tuesday morning at the superior court without jury, for at the close of the trial this noon Justice Hammond announced that he would take the case under advisement.

In this case the plaintiff is seeking to recover damages for the death of his son, which occurred in February, 1917, when the young man broke through the ice while skating on the Merrimack river, the contention of the plaintiff being that the river at the point where the accident occurred, had been used for navigation for over 20 years and for skating in seasonable weather for as long a time, and therefore was a public highway, and the defendant was negligent in not erecting barriers or warnings at points where thick ice ended, after the operation of ice-cutting was over.

The next case to go on trial was that of James H. Boyle vs. Peter G. and Josephine Lary, an action on contract by which the plaintiff seeks to recover the sum of $125 for commission on the alleged sale of real estate owned by the defendants.

WILL ENFORCE THE LAW HONOR THOMAS DURKIN

Judge Enright Issues Warning to Men Who Count
the Railroad Ties

That the practice of walking on railroad tracks will be discouraged by the strict enforcement of the law was made known by Judge Thomas J. Enright in district court this morning when men faced him and pleaded guilty of trespassing on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad tracks. The cases were placed on file.

The sight of the men being arrested as they were returning from work last evening caused a great deal of excitement in the locality of Appleton and the Lincoln bridge. Co-operating with a local police officer, Capt. Thomas M. White of Taunton, and Lieutenant George E. Walsh of Lowell, connected with the railroad police made the arrests.

In court this morning Capt. White, who is the head of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad police, testified that he had repeatedly warned some of the men in person or through his subordinates. He said that the practice of the men walking on the tracks had to be discouraged and he was taking this step as a means.

He then presented the court a copy of a report sent to him by the interstate commerce commission which showed the number of deaths and accidents that had resulted from this practice. The court read part of the report and commented at some length upon it.

He said that he did not want to fine these men this morning, as they were all working men and had to work hard for every dollar they received. He continued that it was not his desire to take money from them, but my circumstances and that he had to do it. When Capt. White professed a willingness to allow the cases to be filed if a warning could be issued, the judge said: "These laws are made for the safety of the people and not as benevolence to the railroads. People will persist in walking the tracks to work even in the face of repeated terrible accidents. Penalties are left without support, many times, from the actions of men who become careless by walking tracks. For many years there has been a law against this and signs are posted at frequent intervals all along the tracks. Even though it does require a few moments more, my advice to you men and all others who indulge in this practice, is to take a few additional steps to your work."

Capt. White said after court that he had done everything possible to stop the track walking. He said that the chief complaints came from men going from the station as far as the Lincoln bridge, where Mr. Durkin was posted at frequent intervals all along the tracks. He continued that while he was stationed in Taunton he was kept in touch with the conditions here by Lieut. Walsh, who is in charge of the railroad police in this section.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB AT NORMAL SCHOOL

Tomorrow evening in the auditorium of the Lowell Normal school, a glee club will be presented by the Girls' Glee club and orchestra, assisted by Mr. Georges Laurent, first flutist of the Boston Symphony orchestra, and under the personal supervision of Miss Inez Field Damon, instructor of music in the school.

The program is in two parts. Part one opens with a prologue (Damon) by Miss Ruth Smith. The glee club will follow with renditions of Berwald's "Lawn Dance" and Densmore's "Starry Night." Severn's "La Bruniere" valse will be given by the orchestra. A trio of folk-songs, "The Young May Moon," arranged by Rhysh Herbert, "Rock-a-Bye," by Neldinger, and "Now is the Month of Maying," by Morley, will be rendered by the club quartet.

Mr. Laurent, with piano accompaniment by Mr. Aaron Richmond, will then play "Concertino" by Chaminate, and the glee club will follow with Chadman's "Chinese Flower Fete." Voltaire's "Serenade" will be given by Edna Lawrence, violin, Daisy Precious, cornet, and the orchestra. Chadwick's "Silently Swaying on the Water's Quiet Drest," by the quartet and glee club, will close part one.

Part two will be a cantata, Eduardo Marzulli's "The Song of the Rose," which is the work of Margaret E. Lacey. The cantata will be given by the glee club and soloists, with flute obbligato by Mr. Laurent. The characters will be as follows: "Narrator," Elsie Burnie; "Frigida," Estelle Doran; "Aestas," Muriel Weatherhead, and "Aestas," Ruth Boulger. The chorus will consist of reapers, birds and nut-gatherers.

The soprano solos will be sustained by Misses Burnie and Doran and the altos by Misses Weatherhead and Boulger. A trio, consisting of Misses Weatherhead, Smith and Boulger, a duet by Misses Boulger and Doran, and semi-choruses by the sustaining company will be features.

WARD'S COUNSEL GIVES UP GUNS

Turns Over Two Pistols Which Were Alleged to Have Figured in Killing

Coroner Declares Holdup Story Doesn't Ring True to Him

Not Going to Hold Inquest Until He Gets Evidence to Make Ward Talk

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., May 25. (By the Associated Press.)—Counsel representing Walter S. Ward, millionaire baker's son who claims to have shot Clarence Peters in self-defense, near the Kensico reservoir, nearly two weeks ago today, turned over to Sheriff George L. Warner, two pistols which were alleged to have figured in the story by Ward of a battle between him and a band of blackmailers.

Ward's attorneys, however, failed to reveal the strange and secret hold which the blackmailers may have had upon their victim. District Attorney Weeks yesterday had declared that the whole story of the alleged blackmail plot must be unfolded to the public if Ward continues to stand on his plea of self-defense.

In telling newspapermen of his receipt of the two weapons, the sheriff made known that he yesterday had inspected the couple in which Ward maintained he had gone to keep a tryst with the band and which, he asserted, was in the center of the battleground.

The sheriff declared positively that the car gave no indications of having been a target, although it previously had been reported that bullets had shattered a pane of glass.

Both Sheriff Warner and Dist. Atty. Weeks appeared before the grand jury today after a long conference with Supreme Court Justice Segrav, who last Monday released Ward under $10,000 bail.

Coroner Fitzgerald did not echo the sheriff's statement that the case was "pretty well cleared up."

"I am not going to hold the inquest until I can get sufficient evidence to make Mr. Ward talk," the coroner said, "because he can stand on his constitutional rights and not say anything."

"I honestly say that the whole story does not ring true to me. We are now checking up the discordant notes."

Latest developments have aroused the question as to how long Ward had been acquainted with Peters before the killing. New revelations, expected from an anonymous letter received by District Attorney Weeks, were looked for today.

The prosecuting official is confident the writer, who claimed to be a soldier and to have known Ward, will reveal his knowledge as to what caused the death of Peters.

"I do not believe a crank wrote that letter," said Mr. Weeks, who showed it to reporters but did not read it. "And I have a clue as to how I can reach him. I would not be surprised."

$44,000 FOR MOTOR CARS

City's Motor Car Investments for Year Represent Snug Fortune

When the city today bought three more automobile trucks—two five-ton Packards for the street department and a 4-ton Dorr for the sewers department—it ran its motor car investments for the year up to approximately $44,000, representing the purchase of eight commercial trucks, one fire ladder truck, one police patrol and eight cars of either coupe, roadster or touring type.

The pair of Packard trucks purchased today, each to cost $12,500, are to be equipped with dump bodies and snow plow attachment and are the same overall as the truck purchased by the street department early this month.

The 4-ton truck bought today is for the city sewer and will be a Dorr, at a cost of $24,000. The only other bid received was $259 from the Lowell Motor Car.

Stiff Fines and Jail Sentences Imposed in Liquor Cases in District Court

Two most unusual liquor cases were tried in district court today before Judge Thomas J. Enright. Although both cases were holly contested by counsel for defense, stiff fines and jail sentences were imposed in both instances. The first case was that in which Frank Neary was convicted of illegal keeping, fined $100 and sentenced to serve two months in the house of correction. The other was one involving Demetrius Papacostas who was also charged with illegal keeping. He was found guilty and fined $100 and sentenced to serve three months in the house of correction. Appeals were taken in both cases.

While the Neary case brought out a

VICIOUS CIRCLE OF OUTRAGES

De Valera Appeals to Papers for Full Publicity of Ulster Atrocities

Will Do All in His Power to Prevent Coercion in Northern Ireland

DUBLIN, May 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Eamon de Valera appealed to newspapermen today for full publicity for the Ulster atrocities on the ground that exposure of the facts was the way to peace.

There was a vicious circle of outrages and reprisals, he said. The unionists were in a majority in the northeast and he favored their having full local autonomy. He opposed coercing them, but was equally opposed to having the northern minority coerced and said he would do all he could to prevent it.

WATERFORD, Ireland, May 25 (by the Associated Press).—Striking farm hands seized the nearby roads today and invaded Waterford, preventing the farmers from selling their cattle at today's fair here or even driving their animals into town.

The counties of Waterford, Tipperary and Kilkenny are suffering from an acute industrial crisis owing to the strike and the closing of the creameries. Quantities of milk are going to waste.

Treaty Must Be Saved

LONDON, May 25 (by the Associated Press).—The Anglo-Irish treaty must be saved. This is the burden of the editorial comment on the Irish crisis by a considerable part of the London press.

There are indications of increasing anxiety, and even alarm. The suspicion that the agreement between Eamon de Valera and Michael Collins covers an intention to declare an independent republic continues unabated.

CURFEW EXTENDED

BELFAST, May 25.—Announcement was made today that the curfew would be imposed from 11 o'clock at night until 5 o'clock in the morning for the whole of the six counties of northern Ireland, with the exception of Belfast, where the curfew period will remain unchanged.

CHEERS GREET LLOYD GEORGE

Premier Opens Debate in Commons on Achievements of Genoa Congress

Russia Hopeless Without the Assistance of the Other 30 Nations

Points Out Three Alternatives in Dealing With Russian Situation

LONDON, May 25. (By the Associated Press.)—Cheers greeted Prime Minister Lloyd George when he entered the house of commons this afternoon, for a debate on the foreign policies of the government which is likely to have an important bearing upon his political future.

Mr. Lloyd George, in beginning his speech, said he proposed dealing only with the business of the Genoa conference and did not intend to discuss German relations or British relations with France, an opportunity for which discussion of would be provided next week.

After reviewing the objects of the conference, he said that in regard to the question whether the conference had succeeded, he would simply state the facts fairly and let the members judge them fairly.

Although peace had been established in Europe, it was quite clear, said Mr. Lloyd George, that the war atmosphere to a certain extent remained.

As for Russia, it was hopeless for her, whatever her government, said the premier, to expect to extricate herself from the pit of squalid misery without the assistance of the other 30 nations.

There were three alternatives in dealing with the Russian situation, Mr. Lloyd George pointed out. The first was force, which has failed. No one had suggested that at Genoa. The second was to leave Russia to her fate.

"But how," he asked, "could we insure Europe against the risks this policy would involve? The Russo-German agreement shows the sort of peril I mean."

Germany, said the premier, could not re-equip Russia economically, not having the capital, but that was not the case with armaments, as there was every natural resource in one country and complete technical skill in the other.

"The British delegation," he said, "realized that it was necessary for the peace of the world, whatever was thought of the soviet government, that some arrangement with Russia be made in order to enable her to help in swelling the volume of trade on which so many millions depend, and in order to give a sense of stability and securities to Europe."

The Russian leaders, said the prime minister, quite realized they were not going to get credit from the west upon a basis of confiscation and repudiation of debts, and also knew that Russia never would be restored until she got credit. As regards debts of money advanced to Russia before the revolution, he said, the Russians were prepared to compromise, saying the obligations they accepted would depend upon the assistance received.

Mr. Lloyd George said The Hague conference was to be a practical discussion between the experts on the basis of the Cannes resolutions. "I am very hopeful," he said, "that when they come down to examination of"

MacBrayne Asks Mayor Brown Not to Nominate Him For Position of Superintendent of Police

Republican Senators Move to Change Rule Limiting Debate

WASHINGTON, May 25.—A movement, said to have the backing of a large number of senators to change the ancient senate rule permitting unlimited debate, was initiated today at a conference of republican senators.

To Resist "Gag" Rule

Republican leaders later were warned in the senate by Senator Underwood of Alabama, the democratic leader, that he would resist to his utmost, any effort by the majority to apply the "gag" rule for passage of the tariff bill. Other minority senators intimated that a closure rule would provoke prolonged discussion.

Called to take steps toward expediting the pending tariff bill, the republican conference developed into a closure movement. A closure resolution was presented by Senator Kellogg, of Minnesota.

The republicans were unable to finish their conference before the senate convened and action on the closure proposal was over until tomorrow, when another conference will be held. Senator Kellogg's motion would curb debate on all revenue or appropriation bills before the senate but would not apply to the soldiers' bonus or other measures. Senators would be held to one hour's general debate and 10 minutes on amendments.

The closure would not begin until a bill had been before the senate five days and until a petition signed by 16 senators was presented. The republicans were said to be far from united on the Kellogg closure plan.

Action on Anti-Lynching Bill Postponed

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Unable to reach a decision on the house anti-lynching bill, the senate judiciary committee today decided to postpone action for two weeks to give time for consultation with house leaders.

RULES CONTRACT INVALID PITCHER HUBBELL HURT

Opinion by Atty. Gen. Daugherty on Contract With Alabama Power Co.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—An opinion by Attorney General Daugherty, submitted to Secretary Weeks and forwarded today to the house military committee, holds that the contract executed by the government with the Alabama Power Co., is "invalid" with respect to the provision which the power company officials contend gives them the right of exclusive purchase of the government's interests in the steam power plant at Gorgas, Ala.

The contract negotiated by the war department with the Air Nitrates corporation of New York, a subsidiary of the American Cyanamid Co., under which nitrate plant No. 2 was constructed at Muscle Shoals, Ala., also is held "invalid" by the attorney general with regard to the option of exclusive purchase claimed by the corporation in the event the plant ever is disposed of by the government to private enterprises.

DIG FOR BODY OF MINER BURIED 8 MONTHS AGO

MAHANOC CITY, Pa., May 25.—Despite the suspension of operations in the anthracite coal fields, a large force of men is digging and dynamiting in the Locust Spring colliery of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Co. in the apparently hopeless task of locating the body of Stanley Zilinski, who was buried behind a fall of rock eight months ago.

The coal company is reported to have spent $80,000 in the work. The coal mined in the search is prepared for market by a force of men who are permitted by the union to aid in the work, but it will not be shipped until the suspension ends.

AUTO HITS COWS, TURNS TURTLE, WOMAN KILLED

MONTPELIER, Vt., May 25.—Mrs. O. H. Stanley of this town was instantly killed and her father-in-law, P. H. Stanley, was severely injured when their automobile turned turtle at East Franklin late yesterday after hitting two cows. It was learned today, Mrs. Lenn Going and her two children, who also were in the car, escaped with bruises.

BROWN SAYS HE WILL NAME HIM

Nomination Will Be Sent in Tonight Despite Temporary Chief's Request

Letter From MacBrayne to the Mayor Contains Sensational Charges

Possibility of Retirement of Welch on Petition for a Pension

Winifred C. MacBrayne, temporary superintendent of police, today requested Mayor George H. Brown not to send his name to the city council as a nominee for the permanent position, but the mayor announced at 1 o'clock this afternoon that he would nominate the acting chief for the place, just the same and that the nomination would be presented to the council at its special meeting tonight.

Capt. MacBrayne's stand in the matter, which he expresses in his letter to the mayor, is that he does not wish further to embarrass him in any appointment of a permanent nature, for the reason that he feels sure that never again will he be able to receive a vote of confirmation from the council.

The letter, a copy of which was made available for the newspapers, contains a number of charges, without the mentioning of names, relative to alleged "offers" on the part of men said to be interested in the liquor business, locally and elsewhere, to lengthen the term of what Mr. MacBrayne says he has experienced while serving temporarily in the office.

He charges that he could have been confirmed as superintendent by the council, "if I would," agree to protect certain liquor dealers and embrace "certain councillors" and also alleges that he was offered $2000 by one liquor dealer "if I would allow his bar to run."

The new turn in events, closely related to the recent upheaval in the affairs of the local police department, was foreshadowed early today when it was generally believed at city hall that efforts were being made to effect a compromise in the matter of a superintendent, that included a proposition to have the mayor withdraw his charges against Ferdinand Welch and retire him on a pension, with MacBrayne continuing to act as temporary superintendent.

WILLING TO RISK HIS LIFE

Rep. Herrick to Prove He's
Only Aerial Daredevil in Congress

Accepts Challenge to Make
High Flight With the Brakes Off

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Willing to take a chance with death to prove himself the only aerial daredevil of congress, Representative Herrick, republican, Oklahoma, accepted a challenge today for a high flight with the brakes off.

Herbert J. Fahy, the challenger, had promised the Oklahoma that he would lose more than a necktie if he agreed to go up.

"You will at your earliest convenience go with me to the war department," Mr. Herrick wrote, "and make the request for a plane and I will back up the request as a congressman, personally."

The house member said he would make no request himself because he "was sore at the department for issuing an order that I must not do any more stunt flying over the Capitol for fear I might fall upon the sky-light and fracture a pane or two and thus put some sitters of glass in some sleepy senator's or congressman's nose."

"If you really have any sand in your oraw to make good the challenge," Mr. Herrick added, "why you must money around to my office and we will go to the war department together."

Dropping into his own made poetry, Herrick gave this:

"If when we fly away on high we should fall down and die,

Anyone wants to cry must rub an onion in their eye."

"Anyone who wants to cry must rub an onion in their eye."

Advising Fahy to take out some life insurance Herrick said he had none, adding:

"Personally, I don't have to as I am not leaving any dependents behind. For I have neither father nor mother, sister nor brother, uncle or aunt, nephew or niece nor cousin even in the third degree. Life to me is not sweet and I don't care two whoops in Gehenna if you go up a couple of miles and stand her on her nose and let her hit."

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots.
How to Remove Easily

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-Face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get a ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one application needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.

SENATE UPSETS REPORTS

Passes Bill to Increase Income

Tax Exemption—Lowell

Men Speak

BOSTON, May 25.—The Massachusetts senate yesterday overturned two reports of the ways and means committee. That committee had reported in favor of the rejection of the bill which provides that in the payment of the income tax an exemption of $250 shall be made for every child under the age of 18; the present law provides that exemption shall be made for not more than two children.

Senators Putnam and Pearson of Lowell, Griswold of Greenfield and Quinn of Swampscott spoke for the bill, and Senators Hardy of Huntington and Monk of Watertown supported the committee on ways and means.

The senate, by a vote of 22 to 17, refused to reject the bill, and it was afterwards passed to be engrossed and sent to the house.

The committee on ways and means had reported also against the bill providing that laborers on public works as well as mechanics and teamsters, both of whom are covered by existing law, shall receive not less than the customary wages for that work in the vicinity where it is done.

Senator Hardy of Fitchburg spoke in favor of the committee report and Senators Donovan and Carey, both of Boston, argued for the bill. By a vote of 20 to 18, the senate refused to reject the bill and it went into the calendar.

General Orders for Memorial Day

General orders, No. 1 issued by Ladd and Whitney post 185, G.A.R., for the observance of Memorial Day, copies of which have been mailed to all members, are as follows:

General Orders No. 1

1. Again the day observed in memory of our comrades gone before, approaches, let us therefore assemble and do once his part to make this a grand occasion, following instructions in the general order.

Sunday Services

2. Morning service, Sunday, May 28.—Members will meet at the Calvary Baptist church, Liberty street, at 10 o'clock and attend service at 10:30.

3. Afternoon service, Sunday, May 28.—Members assemble at 1:30 p.m. at the headquarters of the First Unitarian church, 130 O'Connell street, at 3 o'clock at the First Congregational church. Oration by Rev. Percy E. Thomas, pastor.

Memorial Day

4. The post will assemble at these headquarters Tuesday morning, May 30, at 8 o'clock and proceed by autos to the Lowell cemetery and at the close of the exercises will go direct to Tewksbury, assisting the service memorial service at 10 o'clock at the First Congregational church. Oration by Rev. Percy E. Thomas, pastor.

5. The post will assemble at 2:30 p.m. at these headquarters and an arrival of Post 12 and 20 "call" in rivalry, reporting to the chief marshal on the South common. At the close of the parade and reviews, when dismissed will return to the First Unitarian church, 130 O'Connell street, where we are to be guests of the Sons of Veterans.

6. Comrades unable to march are urged to ride, if their health will permit, on Memorial afternoon. Notify the adjutant, if you will go on or before the 26th instant, so he may know how many carriages to order. We must know how many to order by that date. Carriages with veterans leave these headquarters at the Hildreth cemetery.

7. As far as possible wear full uniform upon all occasions—house, hat, belt and gloves; the officers their side arms for parade only. Every veteran should consider it his duty to attend the exercises in full uniform, whether in health or not. We need you. The uniform is of secondary importance. A few uniforms can be furnished to comrades at headquarters.

8. All war veterans are invited to join with us in these services under the same conditions as members of the post.

Let the few of us that the day finds able turn out and make this day memorable.

Detail of Comrades:

Captain—George L. Cady, in command of company.

Bugler—George E. Bryant.

Officer of Day—C. M. Bixby.

Officer of Guard—A. J. Bixby.

Color Sergeant—J. K. Knowlton.

Color Guard—E. J. Morrill, C. E. Chase, Reuben Sallis, J. Van Steuben.

F. S. Pevey, Commander.

C. H. Horton, Adjutant.

ACTORS TO RUN THEATRE IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, May 25.—An ambitious theatrical enterprise, backed by two-score prominent actors and actresses, with an initial pledge of $33,000 for the operation of a theatre in New York exclusively by members of the profession and the production of the best plays, was announced Tuesday night by the Actors' Equity association. It will be undertaken by the Equity Players, Inc., organized yesterday, with Francis Wilson, president. The Forty-Eighth street theatre has been leased for a year from Aug. 1. It was announced, and the season will begin on Oct. 15. The fund pledged by the guarantors' committee will be sufficient to assure the success of the venture, it was said, making unnecessary the use of Equity association money. Frank Gillmore, executive secretary of the Equity, said that no opposition to the regular theatrical manager was planned. The project, he explained, "is rather intended to be of assistance to them by increasing the output of plays and the movement of theatre-goers." The guarantors include George Arliss, Constance Binney, Jane Cowell, Elsie Ferguson, Do Wolf Hopper, Alfred Hickman, Boris Karlov, Vance O'Neill, James T. Powers, Roland Bottomley and Florence Reed. Some credits take five years to bloom.

SEVEN HURT AS CAR HITS AUTO

NEWTON, May 25.—Seven persons were injured yesterday when a Boston & Worcester car struck a motor truck on Worchester street, near the Brookline boundary. Oscar Moody, Hartford street, Framingham, the motorman, was seriously injured. His chest was crushed and he was severely cut and bruised. He was given treatment and taken home. Less serious injuries were suffered by Mrs. James W. Weeks, Oak street, Wellesley, who was taken to the Peter Bent Brigham hospital; Mrs. Victoria Douglas of 139 Abbott park, Wellesley Hills, who was taken to the Newton hospital, and a Mrs. Palmer of Framingham, who was also taken to the Peter Bent Brigham hospital. Three of the 40 passengers were cut by flying glass.

The truck was driven by William Quimby of Ashbury, Jamaica Plain, who is employed by Dennis Driscoll, a Brookline contractor. Quimby jumped from the truck as the car struck it, and escaped injury. The truck was thrown 25 feet by the impact, though it was carrying six tons of sand. One side of the road is under repairs and the truck was crossing the tracks to reach the other side when the electric car came along and smashed into it.

WILL SELL DAISIES WITH GOLDEN HEARTS

As a preliminary opening to the American Legion's Daisy Day drive, which will take place in this city Saturday, four mammoth white daisies with golden hearts, bearing the autographs of President Harding, Mrs. Harding, Governor Cox, and Major General Clarence R. Edwards will be auctioned off on the South common Friday evening by Mayor George H. Brown.

Although enlarged by a width of two feet, the daisies are a perfect reproduction of the common field daisy. The autographs are absolutely authentic, were secured by the general committee and will be on display today.

It is expected that this most novel way of opening the drive will stimulate interest in the events which are to follow on Saturday. This daisy drive is just another method the Legion has taken up to secure funds with which to aid disabled veterans, their widows and children. It is a most worthy cause and one which should meet with a hearty response by the public. More significance is given to the drive on account of its proximity to Memorial Day. The day in question is one in which the hero dead are tenderly remembered by those who have come through great strife, in most instances, defending the honor of their country. The committee, which consists of Legion members and members of the Legion's Auxiliary, has not any stipulated amount in mind. It simply hopes that the response to the drive will be hearty. A few pennies from each individual will help to swell the fund and give the relief committee funds with which to carry on its work.

In many other cities of the country Daisy Day has been observed Saturday. Boston has had its Daisy Day and Boston responded magnificently to the appeal from its living heroes. The public there caught the spirit of the drive and worked in unison to put it over big.

In Mayor Quinn of Cambridge, who will address the meeting Friday night, the committee has secured a most able speaker and a man foremost in all public welfare work. He has always been a great booster for the American Legion and he will have many interesting things to tell of the Legion's work in his city.

The four large daisies, to be auctioned Friday night will be struck off to the highest bidders. The race to secure them will be a spirited one, as it is seldom that the public is given a chance to obtain such souvenirs.

$100,000 LOSS CAUSED BY FIRE
NEW HAVEN, May 25.—Fire in a paper and pulp storage building at the plant of the National Folding Box company here yesterday afternoon did damage estimated by the management at $100,000. The fire was in stock used in making boxes.

JUDGE PIERCE TO BE TRIED NEXT WEEK

BOSTON, May 25.—Judge Edward P. Pierce of the supreme court and W. Edwin Ulmer will go to trial in the superior criminal court next week, on an indictment accusing them of conspiracy. The case is on the list for Monday.

Judge Pierce and Attorney Ulmer are specifically charged with conspir-

ing to obstruct justice in connection with the affairs of the Henry P. Woods company.

The witnesses in the trial will be the same as those who appeared before the legislative committee that recently heard the Pierce case and reported favorably to the justice.

The section at the right was cut from a new Cord of the same size. Careful measurements show that only 1/3 of the tread of the tire on the Yellow Cab has been worn away after this long, grueling test. The carcass is intact after more than 11,000,000 revolutions.

Firestone Cords have averaged over 10,000 miles on Chicago Yellow Cabs (1,200 cabs all Firestone equipped). In thousands of instances, they have given from 15,000 to 30,000 miles.

Look at the tread—scientifically angled against skid, massive and heavy in the center where the wear comes, tapered at the edges to make steering easy and to protect the carcass against destructive hinging action of high tread edges. The carcass is air bag, expanded to insure uniform tension and paralleling of every individual cord. It is double "gum dipped" to make sure that each cord is thoroughly insulated with rubber.

This is the reason why Firestone Cords unfailingly deliver extraordinary mileage. It explains the unanimous demand of thoughtful tire buyers for these values. The local Firestone dealer will continue to provide the personal service that makes Firestone tire comfort and economy complete.

"LEST WE FORGET"

DAISY DAY

Saturday, May 27th

For the benefit of the widows and children of our dead war heroes and needy former service men.

Daisies will be sold on the streets of Lowell, Saturday, May 27, under the auspices of Lowell Post 87, American Legion and Auxiliary Relief for Lowell Service Men.

You are courteously urged to assist in this worthy cause by purchasing and wearing a daisy on that day and thereby show that you have not forgotten what was accomplished by these men.

Checks may be sent in advance to Dr. C. B. Livingston, Treasurer Daisy Day Committee, 258 Merrimack Street.

250 North Carolina Banks Lose Fight

RALPHIGH, N. C., May 25.—More than 250 state banks and trust companies in North Carolina today lost their fight against par clearance with Federal Reserve banks. The state supreme court in an opinion held that the act of the legislature of 1921 authorizing an exchange fee on checks is in conflict with federal statute and therefore invalid.

Pope Says Mass to Thousands of Pilgrims

ROME, May 25.—Pope Pius was to celebrate mass in the Basilica of St. Peter's today before the thousands of pilgrims attending the International Eucharistic Congress. This afternoon the delegates make a pilgrimage to the Catacombs of St. Calixtus, where impressive ceremonies will take place in the subterranean caverns which afforded refuge for the early Christian martyrs. A solemn adoration in Santa Maria Sopra Minerva follows this ceremony.

4 Killed, 27 Wounded in Belfast

BELFAST, May 25.—(By the Associated Press)—The total casualties in the series of disorders which swept Belfast last night and today are placed at four dead and 27 wounded. The wounded included only those cases treated in hospitals. It is unofficially declared that the curfew law will probably be extended to include the country districts. Two of the 20 persons wounded in the bombing of tram cars filled with shipyard workers last evening, died in the night.

PLANE WRECKED, FLIERS SAFE

WORCESTER, May 25.—(May) C. H. Woolley and Capt. R. W. Leysen, Jr., both of Boston, escaped injury yesterday when a government airplane in which they were flying from Framingham to Worcester plunged 200 feet and landed near Holy Cross college. The aviators leaped as the machine neared the ground and escaped without a scratch, but the plane was demolished. The aviators could not account for the accident, the first intimation of trouble being when the motor suddenly stopped.

AN IMPORTANT RULING

Lowell Man's Case Without Precedent in History of Accident Board

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, May 25.—Manuel Tashera of Lowell, formerly employed as a picker tender in the Tremont & Suffolk mills, has won from the industrial accident board an award of $107.35 in a case which is without precedent in the history of the board, and which establishes a precedent which will doubtless prove of value to employees in the future.

David T. Dickinson of the board, to whom the case was referred for decision, allowed Mr. Tashera $120 for loss of one phalanx of his left thumb; permits him to receive disability compensation during such time as he may hereafter be incapacitated for work because of an operation; and also establishes a new theory with reference to the average weekly earnings of an employee.

Under the compensation law, average weekly earnings are determined by dividing a workman's aggregate earnings for a year by 52. In periods of business depression, this method, obviously, works to the disadvantage of the worker.

He therefore has decided that in this case the computation is to be made upon the basis of a 48-hour week, that being the ordinary number of hours of employment when business was good, as it was at the time Tashera entered the employ of the Tremont & Suffolk mills. The effect of this is to raise the average weekly earnings of the man from $8.60, as previously allowed, to $12.36, and to require the insurance company involved to pay him $47.66 in addition to what he has already received.

The decision, as stated above, marks a new principle in the administration of the workmen's compensation act, the basis of which appears to be the conditions prevailing at the time a workman enters into employment.

"It is ruled that on the facts in this case," Mr. Dickinson says, "where an employee has been employed regularly for a considerable period by the employer, and there were intervals of time in which he was not able to work, because of illness in business during the year preceding the injury, that such inability or lack of work is lost time according to the meaning and provisions of the workmen's compensation act, and it is therefore to be deducted in computing the average weekly wages. If this employee had entered the employ the year preceding the injury, when the establishment was running on part time, on account of dullness in business, it might present a different question, although it would appear that in any situation it was in accordance with the intention of the compensation act to reach a fair normal or pro rata average, based on the usual course of business; and that the time in which the employee did not work by reason of dullness should be deducted as lost time."

FRATERNAL NEWS

A regular meeting of Lowell lodge, 61 I. O. O. F., was held last evening in Odd Fellows' building with Dictator Edward St. Leger in the chair. Five new members were initiated and several applications for membership were received. Routine business was transacted and it was announced that during June, July and August but one meeting a month will be held. A social hour was held and interesting remarks were made by V. L. Picard, Frank J. Lambert, P. R. Monahan, A. J. Lachman and George M. Dube.

Women's Relief Corps

Mrs. Alice Felch presided over the special meeting of the Women's Relief Corps, 75, G. A. R., which was held last evening. Plans for the Memorial Day observance were made and it was announced that a meeting of the corps will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in preparation for attendance at the services at the First Congregational church. On May 30 luncheon and dinner will be served at Memorial hall.

Ladd & Whitney Circle

At last evening's meeting of Ladd & Whitney circle L. of G. A. R. services were held in honor of the deceased members of the organization. Plans were made to attend the memorial services at the Calvary Baptist church next Sunday at 10:30 o'clock and the First Congregational church at 3 o'clock, while at 5:30 p. m. the organization will attend the service at the Spiritualist church. It was announced that a joint observance of Flag day will be held in Memorial hall on the evening of June 14. The members of the circle who passed away during the past year were as follows:

Sister Lizzie M. Small, Sept. 21, 1921; Comrade William H. Estabrook, June 16, 1921; Comrade Augustus V. Hovey, Sept. 2, 1921; Comrade Jacob H. Smith, December 20, 1921; Stephen R. Sweetser, March 10, 1922; Franklin Jaquith, May 3, 1922.

BANKERS' CONFERENCE TO HOLD INTERNATIONAL YACHTING RACE

Germany Said to Oppose Hermer's Proposals for Balancing Budget

PARIS, May 25 (by the Associated Press).—The second day of the international bankers' conference finds the situation less reassuring than the first for, according to Berlin advices, the German government is not unlikely to reject Finance Minister Hermer's proposals for balancing the budget which the reparations commission found acceptable.

Such a step would considerably add to the already monumental task of straightening out the European financial tangle.

J. P. Morgan, who admittedly dominates the conference, will not be influenced by sentimental or diplomatic considerations, it is stated, and will require tangible securities which can be readily controlled.

The bankers are approaching the question of a loan to Germany by informing themselves of that country's economic arrangements and resources. They also have before them information respecting Germany's finances gathered by the reparations commission.

More than 2,000,000 girls under the age of 15 are employed in various occupations in the United States.

Two women are members of the Kansas City board of aldermen.

NEW YORK, May 25.—An international yachting race will be held June 8, 9 and 10 in Narragansett bay, off Bay side, between miniature craft measuring only six and seven feet from stem to stern.

It will be the first international miniature yachting race in which the United States ever has participated. W. T. Daniels of London claims the championship of the world.

Selection of the boats which will represent America in the challenge race will be announced within a few days by a jury of yachtsmen who will need the trials recently held by the leading clubs. Forty-six craft were built for the tests.

The boats, which are limited to a length of 45 inches on the water line, are too small to carry a helmsman, so the skipper follows in an especially built skiff easily handled and turned, from which he mans the sails. The tiny yachts in a good breeze to windward go as fast as four and five miles an hour. They have a full equipment of sails.

The international races will be held over three-mile courses.

DO YOU SUFFER? BACKACHE OR PAIN OVER KIDNEYS?

Wonderful Relief Is Here Told

Utica, N. Y.—"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets for kidneys and backache. I have never known a medicine that would give such quick relief. For some time past I had been suffering with kidney disorder, my back would be lame through the region of the kidneys and I also suffered with rheumatism and stiffness of the joints. Just recently I learned of Anuric and began short time but have derived wonderful relief. My kidneys have become active and seemingly in a normal state and I do not suffer with backache and stiffness of the joints. To those who suffer as I did I would suggest Dr. Pierce's Anuric."—Mrs. H. A. Taylor, 903 Knox street.

anti-uric-acid remedy of Dr. Pierce's for backache and kidneys (called "An-uric") is new, but it can be had at your neighborhood drug store, or send 10c for trial pkg. to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., Adv.

DEBATE BILL TO STOP GAMBLING IN CUBA

HAVANA, May 25.—Insurgents in the house of representatives, continuing their attack on the administration last night, failed in an attempt to force suspension of the rules for consideration of a bill to abolish gambling throughout Cuba.

The debate centered around the administration's methods of conducting the national lottery and carrying out the "four" encouragement law, by which horse racing and legalized gambling under the management of Americans are permitted.

For lottery tickets alone, speakers declared, the Cuban public spends approximately $30,000,000 annually, while the sums wagered on cock fights, jai alai, indoor tennis and other sports far exceeds that amount.

HOUSE REJECTS BRIDGE BILL

BOSTON, May 25.—The Massachusetts house of representatives yesterday rejected, by a standing vote of 50 to 33, the bill for the construction of four drawless bridges over the Charles river to take the place of existing structures between Boston and Cambridge and Boston and Watertown. The measure had passed the senate and the house committee on counties had recommended it be rejected.

Young Takes Floor Again

The house refused to accept the report of the committee on conference on the so-called "County Control" bill, but after an earnest appeal for harmony by Speaker Young, who took the floor for the second time this session, voted to appoint a new committee on conference.

The action was preceded by a lengthy debate. When the report of the conference committee had been rejected by a voice vote, Mr. Sawyer of Ware moved a new committee be appointed.

The motion for the appointment of a new conference committee was carried by a standing vote of 101 to 42.

Speaker Young announced the members of that committee Messrs. Keniston of Boston, Graves of Springfield and Sawyer of Ware.

Without debate or division the house passed to be engrossed the bill for state-wide fire prevention regulations to conform with those of the metropolitan district.

Two Unanimous Rollcalls

Two rollcalls in succession on an uncontested measure was one of the unusual incidents of yesterday's session. The measure in question provides for enlarged platform space in the Cambridge tunnel at Harvard square. The first rollcall was on the adoption of an emergency preamble, and the second because the bill provided for the state borrowing money under given conditions. There was not a single "No" on either.

By a rollcall vote of 150 to 53, the house sustained the governor's veto of the bill providing for the appointment of Richard Williams as a member of the fire department of Quincy.

GREENHALGE SCHOOL DEFEATS MOREY

On the South common yesterday, the Greenhalge school team of the Grammar school league defeated the Morey school team by the score of 5 to 2. This victory puts the Greenhalge team in second place. The lineup of the latter team in yesterday's game was as follows: Joyal p, Beauregard c, Murphy 1b, (capt.) Kay 2b, Cashman 3b, Hammer ss, Fennel lf, Kosciolok rf, and Nault cf.

HOW TO REDUCE VARICOSE VEINS

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.

URGES FORCEFUL METHOD OF TEACHING BIBLE

BOSTON, May 25.—Dr. Charles P. Gaston of New York, president of the National Council of Teachers of English, speaking to the Unitarian Sunday School society here today, stressed the necessity for new and forceful methods of teaching the Bible in church schools. He advocated the project method, adding "the church school should give the pupils something of worship through projects for the encouragement of worship."

"In most cases," Dr. Gaston said, "the work of the church school should have a missionary aspect; the school should reach out to others less fortunate. Mission should be in a sense part of the action of every church school. These four things seem to be the special function of the church school; knowledge of the Bible; knowledge of right worship; building up in personal and social ideals; and encouraging and developing missionary spirit and ideals."

Dr. Gaston suggested that "departures from the usual methods of teaching the Bible time should be spent in reading, in listening to music, and in playing a game of studying particular parts of the Bible."

Dr. Gaston also suggested that "entertainment stories for indoor and outdoor performances were also suggested."

Doctor at 82 Finds Mothers Prefer His Formula to New-Fangled Salts And Coal Tar Remedies for Babies

Judgment of 1892 vindicated by world's approval of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a simple vegetable compound for constipation—So safe thousands give it to babies in arms—Now has largest sale in the world.

WHEN a man is in the 83rd year of his age, as I am, there are certain things he has learned that only time can teach him. The basis of treating sickness has not changed since I left Medical College in 1875, nor since I placed on the market the laxative prescription I had used in my practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headache, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of my Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other mild laxative herbs with pepsin.

Recently new medicines have been brought out for constipation that contain calomel, which is mercury, salts of various kinds, minerals, and coal tar. These are all drastic purges, many of them dangerous, and the medical profession is warning the public against them. Certain coal tar products will depress the heart; certain salts give rise to intestinal poisoning, impaction and rupture of the intestines. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with pills and powders and strong drugs, even if disguised in candy? My remedy, too, costs less than most others, only about a cent a dose. A bottle such as you can find in any drug store, will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the babe in arms because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal.

The formula of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is on the cover of every bottle, and the ingredients have the endorsement of the U. S. Pharmacopoeia.

$10,000 Worth of Syrup Pepsin Free In remembrance of my 83rd birthday I have set aside the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars to be given away in half-ounce bottles of my Syrup Pepsin. Only one Free Trial bottle to a family. All are constipated now and then, and here is an opportunity for you and others to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin FREE OF CHARGE. Ask for your free bottle today, simply sending name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 514 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Do not postpone this.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL MEETING

At a meeting of the Trades & Labor council, held last evening and presided over by President Charles E. Anderson, routine business was transacted, numerous communications were read and the committee in charge of the recent dance for the benefit of the textile strikers made a report to the effect that the receipts of the event were very substantial. Votes of thanks were extended to the Permanent Firemen's association for its gift of $25 to the strikers and the assistance rendered by the organization at the recent dance; to Local 133, I. A. of M. for the free use of its hall for the dance; to the Lowell Musicians' union and Saunders' Public Market for the assistance rendered in making the dance a success.

In the course of the meeting plans were made for the "Dollar Day" to be conducted in this city for the benefit of the strikers next Saturday. According to plans, people employed in the textile mills, that are not affected by the strike, as well as those friendly to the labor movement, will be asked to donate one dollar each for the strikers' fund.

An unsolicited donation of $25 for the local textile strikers was received. The gift was from Cyrus S. and Agnes Fidler, proprietors of the Boston Ladies' Outfitters in Merrimack street. It was in the form of a cheque and was accompanied by the following letter:

Sirs—Enclosed you will find cheque for $25. At any time you need help let us know. Yours very truly, CYRUS AND AGNES FIDLER.

This is the second donation received from Mr. and Mrs. Fidler during the past few weeks, the other being to the amount of $10.

Simplicity Will Mark the Graduation Garb

BY MARIAN HALE

You may side with the medical profession and declare the flapper to be the hit of this generation.

Or you may cast your vote with the faction who sees in her a menace to our social structure.

But you may be sure she will go right ahead defying traditions and leaving her mark on everything she touches.

You feel her influence nowhere more strongly than in our annual institution, soon to be solemnized, the high school commencement.

There was a time, not so long ago, when a girl's graduation frock was long and her hair was done high on her head, to indicate her playtime was over.

These days, however, the flapper now finishes school in the same casual, detached way she does everything else.

Gone are the frills, the white satin ribbons, the yards of lace and the low-cut gowns. The 1922 graduation frock is so simple it is almost a uniform.

For a long time teachers and parents tried to regulate the extravagance of girl graduates, a saleswoman in one of New York's largest apartment stores, told me.

In many schools teachers insisted upon a uniform of a middie blouse and skirt, so that all the girls might have an equal chance.

"Often they found it advisable to limit the number of flowers a girl might carry, and sometimes they abolished them altogether," she said.

Now such measures are not neces-

TWO OF THE SEASON'S FASHIONABLE GRADUATION GOWNS

ary. Flappers adopt uniforms of their own accord, and most of them wouldn't be bothered with carrying flowers. In fact, they select the plainest clothes in the store.

"Fine and again a mother calls for something lace and fluffy, only to have it firmly declined by the flapper daughter."

The materials, I learned, that seemed to find most favor are georgette crepe and canton crepe, with crepe de chine, forandies and voiles following closely.

Some girls are making a concession and wearing a white ribbon in their bobbed tresses, but most of them prefer to let the joy in its comfort keep it unconfined.

Except for her beloved earrings, and possibly a string of beads, the flapper will be graduated without jewels.

German Banker is Optimistic

PARIS, May 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Optimism over the progress being made by the International Bankers' conference considering the German financial situation, with a view to an international loan, was voiced today by Karl Bergmann, the German representative. "It is turning out just as I expected," he said after the morning session of the conference.

Train Wrecks Trolley—32 Injured

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 25.—Thirty-two persons were injured, several seriously today when a crowded Interurban trolley car on the lines of the Birmingham Railway, Light & Power Co., was struck and broken into two parts by a freight train on the Alabama Great Southern railroad line at Woodlawn station. Confusion in following signals of a crossing flagman was said to have caused the accident.

200 Pickets Dispersed by Police

PAWTUCKET, R. I., May 25.—About 200 pickets today gathered near the Phillips Wire Works against which a strike was declared eight months ago. They were dispersed by the police who were armed with night sticks and riot guns. Before the police arrived there was considerable hooling and jeering at the workers. Later two strike sympathizers were arrested on the charge of revelling. Armando Praya was fined $20 and costs.

the officers entered, into a drain containing several quarts of water. Although the officers did not have liquor to back their case on they claimed the contents of the drain smelled strongly of liquor. A sample was taken from the drain and when analyzed was found to contain alcohol. The defense at that time was that the alcohol found in the liquor was the result of washing out beer glasses in it.

INQUEST INTO DEATH MYSTERY

Officials Again Seek to Determine Cause of Lieut. McGilvary's Death

Body, Bearing Four Bullet Wounds, Found in Alley in Boston a Year Ago

BOSTON, May 25.—An inquest into a year-old death mystery, the shooting of Lieut. Paton C. McGilvary, a former army aviator, was reopened today. It had been suspended for several months, after brief sessions called in an attempt to clear up conflicting indications of suicide and of murder.

McGilvary's body, bearing four bullet wounds, was found in an alley in the Back Bay district here on May 10, 1921. The revolver used apparently was his own. Only two of the four discharged cartridges were found. He had been in financial straits and had left a note regarded as a farewell to Mrs. Evelyn Clifford, a friend.

Relatives and friends insisted after independent inquiries here that McGilvary had been murdered. The medical examiner's report was that death occurred "in a manner unknown." Medical Examiner Timothy J. Leary, however, said that first indications were definitely of suicide and that when these became less clear later, he asked for an inquest by Chief Justice Foster of the municipal court so that the investigation might be thorough. District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier, after a brief inquiry at the time, announced that McGilvary was a suicide.

Relatives of McGilvary caused Wisconsin pathologists to hold an autopsy on the body after it was sent to McGilvary's home for burial. Their report was that he was a victim of murder. Medical Examiner Leary said he could not subscribe to such a finding.

The occasion for reopening the inquest today was not announced.

NEGRO WHO ESCAPED MOB NOW SAFE IN JAIL

MACON, Ga., May 25.—Jim Denson, negro youth, whose appeal from a death sentence was carried without avail to the supreme court of the United States and who early this week narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of a mob, was safe today in Bibb county jail.

"The sho' mighty proud to be here," was Jim's smiling comment, even though the sentence to be hanged June 16 for an alleged attack on an aged white woman, three years ago, still stares him in the face. Jim, however, had some reason to smile, beyond his escape from the mob, because numerous white persons in this and Wilkinson county, believing his escape was an act of Providence, were considering an appeal to Gov. Hardwick for commutation to life imprisonment.

Papacostas was found guilty in lower court but appealed. He was also found guilty in superior court recently and paid a fine of $100.

The Second Raid

On the night of April 18 the liquor squad again descended upon the place. It was on this charge that he was arraigned today. Officer Lynch testified that he saw Papacostas pass a bottle of liquor named "Speed" in the doorway of 509. Lynch followed the defendant into the bar and attempted to find some contraband. In the meantime the remainder of the party searched the premises at 509 and found several gallons of wine in an unoccupied tenement on the third floor. An attempt was made to put in the evidence this morning, but lawyer Hogan objected on the grounds that connection could not be shown between the defendant and the liquor. His objection was sustained by the court.

Atty. Hogan's big contention was that the passing of the bottle in the doorway of 509 and the subsequent events in the barroom were two separate and distinct transactions and that they should be treated as such. The court, however, ruled that the evidence was admissible on the ground that circumstances of the case could be brought in.

When Officer Clyde Aldrich was on the stand he and Atty. Hogan had several spirited tiffs and the lawyer objected to many parts of his testimony. Aldrich told of two visits to the place and how he saw a bottle passed from one man to another in the saloon in the defendant's presence.

Atty. Hogan did not put his client on the stand, claiming that the government had not made out a case. In passing the sentence the court said that he could not find the man other than guilty in view of the fact that he had been testified that drunken men had been seen coming out of the place, that suspicious liquid had been found in a drain and that a bottle of contraband had been passed in the presence of the defendant.

The Neary Case

Regarding Neary, whose place was raided on April 29 and samples of cider taken, some of which were found to contain more alcohol than the law allows, Atty. Dennis J. Murphy offered an unusual defense. He claimed that between the time the cider was seized and the time it was analyzed by the chemists there had been time for sufficient fermentation to take place which would raise the alcoholic content of the cider.

Neary's place at 192 Church street was raided, but no liquor was found. A quantity of cider was exposed on the bar for 10 cents a drink. Samples of this were taken. Samples were also taken from four barrels found in another part of the building. One of the samples showed alcoholic content of 4.37 per cent, while another showed less than 2 per cent, the amount which is allowed in cider. The analysis was shown to have taken place on May 2. Atty. Murphy contended that packing the stuff in a hot place and sending it through express might raise the alcoholic content.

Double-barreled pleaded guilty to illegal keeping and was fined $100, which he paid. Patrick Donohue also pleaded guilty to a like charge and paid $100.

Counsel Gives up Guns

if he arrived in White Plains some time today and talked. What he says, I believe, may be of great value in tracing the hidden depths of the story Ward tells."

The Peters family in Haverhill, Mass., claims to have a postcard from young Peters from South Carolina dated early in May. Peters was rejected by the Marine Corps on May 11. Allowing for the shortest possible time Peters could not have arrived in New York before May 13, and he went on his death side on the night of May 15. The blackmail plot had been going on for six weeks, according to Ward's story.

The statement of police from surrounding towns that Peters was seen on Ward's truck before his death was made known to the authorities here and would indicate that Peters was about Ward for some time before the killing occurred.

Investigators employed by the Peters family have notified the authorities here that they are trying to run to earth the reports that Ward may have known Peters in Boston, which would date the acquaintance back of the time that the dead sailor tried to enlist in the Marines.

Sheriff George Werner says he has the gun used by Ward.

"I can produce Ward's gun when it is needed," said the sheriff, "and it will show that more than one shot was fired."

"How about Peter's gun?" he was asked.

"I can't say anything about that," he replied.

The sheriff displayed the garments.

Smoking compartments for the use of ladies only are being tried on one of the big railways in Great Britain.

found on Peters and showed that a bullet had pierced the vest and shirt in front and passed through the coat, vest and shirt in back. This indicated, he said, that Peters must have had his coat open when the shot that killed him was fired.

Considerable mystery has surrounded the whereabouts of the two weapons alleged to have been held by Ward and Peters, and many conflicting statements have come from official sources as to their discovery or non-discovery since young Ward surrendered.

One of the weapons, alleged to have been Ward's, was a new .38-calibre

Colt automatic, which ejects empty shells. The sheriff said Ward's attorney had turned over with the gun two empty shells, one of which they claimed had been found under the driver's seat in the coupe, and the other on the road.

No one has found the third shell and no one knows why the gun is now empty," said the sheriff.

The other weapon was a .33-calibre Smith & Wesson, a five-shot gun which does not eject empty shells. It was found unexploded cartridges and one shell.

According to Ward's story, Peters fired only once but "Charlie Ross," alleged to have been present with another man known only as "Jack," pulled the trigger four times.

"I would not give you this information unless the case was pretty well cleared up," the sheriff told reporters.

The sheriff announced that shortly after Ward had surrendered the New York police had been asked to send out a description of "Ross" and "Jack," but that no general alarm had as yet been circulated.

"Ross" was described as 27 years old, 5 feet 7, dark complexion, smooth face and well dressed. "Jack" was said to be the same height, of pale complexion, with scarred hands and the dress of a chauffeur.

THE MUNICIPAL TANGLES

One who reads in the newspapers of the continued bickerings at city hall might suppose that our new charter was proving to be a veritable farce; but the charter is not to be held responsible for the acts of officials who disregard its provisions. With clearness and precision, the charter has separated the executive, legislative and administrative functions of our city government; but men who served under the old commission charter which united all three in the same set of officials, find it difficult to accommodate themselves to the new order which gives to the mayor executive functions only, to the council legislative only, and to the heads of departments administrative only.

Responsibility is fixed for the officials of each class, and within their respective rights each is supreme and independent of the others.

When the mayor states that he is running the city, he misrepresents the facts. He is not running the city; but as the executive, he has oversight of the work of the heads of the departments, and this extends only to looking for results.

What use is it for the city to pay men of skill and training if they are obliged to take orders from Mayor Brown at every step? We are not living under the city manager plan of government and Mayor Brown should keep this fact in mind and let his official acts conform strictly to the provisions of the charter. The head of the police department, for example, has full power to assign whomsoever he pleases to the liquor squad and it is his privilege to rearrange the men on the city beats as he pleases without consulting the mayor or any member of the city council as to what these officials might advise.

It is not for Mayor Brown or any member of the city council to force his wish or will upon the head of any municipal department.

The mayor removes Supt. Welch on the ground that he, the superintendent, yielded to dictation from certain members of the city council; but it is a matter of record that only on the day on which he issued this edict, he tried to force his wish and will upon the superintendent of police to the extent of keeping a certain official as head of the liquor squad and of sanctioning a pending agreement to secure new police uniforms from a Boston firm.

In doing this, the mayor overstepped his authority quite as much as did Councilor Bagley. If, as alleged, the latter advised the superintendent as to assignments to the liquor squad, Supt. Welch is free to take counsel from whom he pleases as to what he should or should not do; but it is his privilege also to reject any dictation offered either by the mayor or the councilors. Where the chief fault is that he does not stand up in his boots and assert his authority in defiance of the mayor or any other official who might try to prevent him from conducting the administrative affairs of the department as he sees fit, providing only that he will be held responsible for the results.

STATE PRIMARY CONTESTS

In this state, the primary elections will be held on September 12. As yet very little has been heard from the Democratic candidates, who are to contest for Senator Lodge's seat, Col. William A. Gaston and John Jackson Walsh are the only avowed candidates thus far, but it is understood that Sherman L. Whipple will also enter the field. It was supposed that Walsh would run for the nomination for governor, having once represented the Democratic party at the head of the state ticket. As the time for the primaries approaches, it appears that there is a growing republican sentiment in favor of a change. Already a republican organization has been formed to oppose Lodge in the way which is best calculated to secure his defeat. It is not improbable that there will be a republican candidate to oppose him in the primaries, but we do not believe he can be defeated in the primary contest. But in view of the republican defection, chiefly owing to Lodge's vote for Newberry and the failure of the party to pass the bonus and tariff bills, there is an opportunity to defeat the senator if the democrats put up a strong candidate who will draw the republican dissident vote and also command the united support of his own party.

In reference to the contest for governor, Attorney General Allen is expected to enter the fight and if he does, he will predominate a political upheaval such as the party has not seen for many years. Lieutenant Governor Fuller states that if Allen seeks the nomination for governor, he too, will become a candidate as he has the ambition to become governor and if Allen were elected, Fuller might have to wait four years for his chance to occupy the governor's chair. At present he is in the line of succession which has been established by nearly a dozen precedents and he will naturally oppose any candidate who tries to thwart him in his ambition by intruding upon his preserve.

If the democrats put up strong candidates for governor and United States senator, they will have a good fighting chance of success. But if they name men who can merely count on the democratic strength on election day, they might as well put no candidates in the field.

FOREIGN MARKETS WAITING

"American prosperity—real prosperity—will come only when we regain our foreign markets." Such, in brief, is the gist of an extended address delivered before the members of the United States chamber of commerce in Lowell, last week, by W. Irving Bullard, Boston banker and treasurer of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers. Mr. Bullard appears to have sound reasons for his declaration.

Europe is calling for our copper and our cotton, but the foreign trade is expanding very slowly. Mr. Bullard declares the pessimistic attitude of many business men. Such pessimists forget two or three important things, he avers. One is the obvious fact that deflation losses, due to slump in prices, were not confined to foreign business. The collapse was world-wide and America perhaps suffered less than most other countries. The symbol of the depression today is the U.S. ship. Yet Mr. Bullard predicts that within two or three years this country will need every ship now idle and that we shall actually be sending new ships to carry the cargoes of the future. He predicts a stronger current of business in the cotton manufacturing industries from now on. Our own domestic consumption in April dropped to 416,000 bales from 618,000 in March, while our exports jumped from 161,000 to 612,000 bales. There is an actual dry goods famine in Germany and other foreign countries. As the treasurer of the Cotton Manufacturers' association truly says:

"We have abundant chances ahead of us in foreign markets on all of the continents. At the same time our domestic well-being demands that we make intelligent and courageous use of them."

HAVERHILL'S PROBLEM

Starlings down in Haverhill who have been surveying auto traffic over the old Haverhill bridgeway, have apparently chalked up enough figures to convince the state house senate that the proposed $300,000 bridge is absolutely necessary if future traffic is to be taken care of in adequate shape. Auto traffic over this bridge runs at the average rate of 450 machines per hour, according to the tallies kept for a period of 23 hours at a stretch by policemen.

The average for Sunday traffic is only slightly less than the Saturday traffic, according to the figures compiled. On Sunday during a period of 14 hours, there was a total of 5598 cars, of which 4750 were Haverhill machines. On Saturday the total was 7701, of which 3606 were out-of-town machines.

The safety of traffic lines over streams of water require that all bridges be properly strengthened and kept in good repair. Supporters of the new Haverhill bridge plan believe that the work now demanded should have been done some time ago. Safety first is just as necessary on our great highway bridges as it is on our railroad lines. And traffic conditions are constantly being hampered in many cities where under similar conditions highways and bridges fail to meet the constantly increasing demands made upon them. It is gratifying to know that our local bridge job is near completion. It, too, is used by a great volume of traffic and this will be still greater after the First street boulevard is finished.

TRAVELS OF A PRINCE

Homeward bound, the battle cruiser, H. M. S. Renown, Prince of Wales on board and all his retinue intact, will sail into English waters in a few weeks if nothing untoward occurs to mar the final lap of the empire's future ruler returning from his tour of the world. This is the third extensive journey of the young prince—and all in a period of three years. On each trip he touched an American territory. In 1919 he visited Washington and New York, and the following year he went through the Panama canal on his way to Australia. His third journey took him to the Far East, to India and also Japan and the Philippine Islands.

The last world trip of the young English prince has been remarkably free from disorders, although dire disasters were predicted for the India trip. Indeed, the future king sustained only one real mishap—when he received a black eye while playing polo in a friendly game at Manila while enjoying the hospitality of Uncle Sam.

If these world trips of England's prince can help cement the bonds of friendship between England and the far nations of the earth, then it will have accomplished something more than can be seen on the surface or gleaned from the brief cable reports informing us of his itinerary.

THE RADIO CRAZE

America has an epidemic of "radio flu," says Geoffrey Ingham, managing director of Marconi's wireless company. He thinks our radioholic boom is premature, and that the equipment we are using will soon be primitive.

That may be. But the radio craze in our country will develop the wireless industry ten times as fast as it had been left to laboratory scientists and corporations. Why? Because the knee-pants amateurs, now experimenting with toy outfits, will produce a crop of inventors.

Progress is regulated by the law of averages. It depends on the extent to which popular interest is aroused. Radio is doing a lot to end militarism and ill-feeling in Europe, and to break down the traditional barriers raised by secret diplomacy.

That is the belief of Prof. A. Christian, language expert at the University of Glasgow.

Christian is broadcasting speeches in the universal language, Esperanto. As radio extends its long arms to link the far corners of the earth, the great barrier will be the lack of a common language. That is why far-sighted radio fans will investigate Esperanto.

Who is chief of police today and who will be chief tomorrow, is a matter for the city council to decide.

Good Place to Wait

At 2 o'clock a customer entered a restaurant and ordered lunch. Half an hour passed, and still he sat there unaided and miserable. Then, as the hands of the clock indicated 2:45, a face became grim and desperate. "Waiter," he called out, "what time do you close this shop?" "Half-past 6, sir," replied the waiter. With a note of deep agitation in his voice, the customer asked, "You'll be very careful not to lock me in, won't you?"

Thought for Today

It is a proverbial saying, that everyone makes his own destiny; and this is usually interpreted, that everyone, by his own wise or unwise conduct, prepares good or evil for himself. But we may also understand it, that whatever it be that he receives from the hand of Providence, he may so accommodate his life that he may find his lot good for him, however much may seem to others to be wanting.—William von Humboldt.

Bill's View Of It

Two tramps gathered at the local English tavern at the end of a long day's begging. They were both tired and hungry, and gazed with longing eyes at their empty glasses. "Didn't you make anything, Bill?" inquired one. "What about that, though I saw you looking at the big one with the open window?" "Didn't trouble to ask," was the reply. "I looked in the window and saw two gals playing on one piano, so I guessed they was too poor for me to worry!"

Good Watch Dog

Smithson had just bought a dog and he was very keen on showing it to all his friends and acquaintances. One day, while the animal and proudly trotting its imaginary pedigree. His pal Brown looked at the mongrel with an air reminiscent of a vet. "I can't say I like him," said Brown. "He reminds me of a dog I once had—but a better one than this. Why, I used to wrap that dog up in flannel and put him to bed, and if ever I heard a suspicious noise during the night and came down to wake him up, he'd bark like the very deuce!"

A Word a Day

"Today's word is repudiation. It's pronounced—re-pu-dia-shun, with accent on the second and fourth syllables. It means—the act of casting off, or disowning, or disclaiming, or refusing to have anything to do with, or declining to acknowledge or pay, or comes from—Latin—"repudiare," to repudiate or reject. It's used like this—Lloyd George, addressing persons or nations engaged in seeking loans, advises these applicants against borrowing at the same time that they ask for credit into a discussion of the doctrine of repudiation of debts, remarking that while the doctrine "may be sound," the discussion, at such a moment, "is not diplomatic."

The Father-in-Law's Return

The knobs are on the doors again, the doors are on their hinges, and to and fro they go gayly. All innocent of twinges. The screens are fixed, the boxes too. And everything's up to law; it's easy to see that he's back with me. My marvelous father-in-law.

Chorus

With rule and hammer and plumb and saw—
O, I've a most wonderful father-in-law.

The baby's bed doesn't fall apart
And drop him upon the floor,
And the pantry shelf controls itself
And doesn't come down any more.
The tea box leak you would vainly seek.

It hasn't a crack or flaw,
And the house is gay all the live long day
Because of my father-in-law.

Chorus

For it's here with a hammer and there with a saw—
O, he's a miraculous father-in-law.

He's tuned the piano, adjusted the clock
(It's a heavenly gift, I guess);
And even the gutter is utterly utter—
No longer a miserable mess.
Everything goes when it ought to,
And haws when it ought to haw;
No wonder I sing what a wonderful thing
Is a wonderful father-in-law.

Chorus
With his magic plumb and miraculous saw,
And his skill and science and lore and law—
O, I have a marvelous father-in-law.

STRIKERS TO LIVE IN TENTS

MANCHESTER, N. H., May 25.—Hundreds of tents have been ordered by the committee in charge of the strike here to shelter workmen excluded from company tenements through inability to pay rents. Sites for three tent colonies in the vicinity of this city have been selected.

STUCK BY AUTOMOBILE
John Lopez, a resident of Chelsea, was struck by an automobile while riding his bicycle in Gorham at last evening and sustained painful injuries to his face and head. The accident took place at about 7 o'clock and was being operated by Melville E. McDonald of Everett, who stated that he did not see the bicycle until it was only about 10 feet from his car. Lopez was taken to the Lowell Corporation hospital.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Miss Grace Burns, the energetic advertising manager for the Chaffoux Co., was paid a pretty tribute Wednesday night at the Everett Club. The Crier, by who were visiting the Lowell Club. The gentleman had heard a number of applications read, with the name of Miss Burns as proposer attached to nearly all of them, and seemed to know something more of the young lady's efforts in the club's interest. He asked for permission to speak for a moment, and when leave was given him to do so he at once invited Miss Burns to accompany the visitors to the Everett Club. He then spoke of nice things relative to her efficiency in boosting the town and its activities. Miss Burns did not respond, however, and the speaker then turned his attention to the local club's membership that she continue her work in this city and continue the interest she is showing in the membership roll.

I witnessed a little incident the other night which brought to my mind one of the advantages which would be secured by the installation of the traffic lights which have been ordered and delivered ready to put in place when suitable bases are made for them. The incident concerned a careless driver, who, coming up John street in the direction of Merrimack, attempted to use the center of the street, and, consequently, ran into the so-called "silent traffic officer" at the junction, over turning it and breaking the lantern. This is not the first of these collisions. I have seen all the traffic posts after the departure of the regular traffic officers after their day's work being subject to the same mishap, particularly at the junction of Merrimack, Central and Prescott streets, but with the knowledge that the beacons were to be solidly implanted in such locations in the near future, it occurred to me that the result of these collisions would be increased business for the auto repair stations rather than the hardware store.

The many Lowell friends of Robert F. Farrell, familiarly known as "Bob," will be interested to know that he goes to Hampton beach tomorrow to remain for the summer. Bob is a police officer at the beach and is extremely popular both with the Hampton people and the many visitors that frequent that enjoyable resort. He has been doing his winter work at Hampton for the last four years and many Lowell people will testify to the very courteous manner in which they have been treated by the genial Bob. "If in trouble see Bob Farrell," seems to be a Hampton slogan, and while Bob believes in strict enforcement of the traffic laws, he seems to be able to straighten out difficulties without resorting to extreme measures. He will be accompanied to Hampton tomorrow by his wife, and there's a bit of good news for Lowell people in this reference, too, inasmuch as Mrs. Farrell will conduct a lodging and dining house in G. street, just a little way from the Casino. That's a tip for anybody anticipating a visit to Hampton, for Mrs. Farrell is not only an excellent cook, but a splendid housekeeper as well. Mr. Farrell tells me that Hampton is preparing for the biggest season in her history and is making extra preparations for the accommodation of an unusual number of guests. Several splendid new buildings have been erected since the beach was swept by fire and Bob says that persons not desirous of paying for a night's lodging may find comfortable quarters at the new police station, which is one of the Hampton's splendid new buildings. Well, anyway, don't forget that if in trouble at Hampton, see Bob—see him anyway.

With the coming of warm weather and the opening of the summer resorts the prevalent strike situation seems to have little effect on the patronage of the open air dance halls and other attractions. In fact, it is doubtful if any piano player has started off as suspiciously and, for that matter so early. I have visited practically all of these summer parks, and find the same old crowd, augmented by quite a number of new faces, is at the same old place and occupied with the same old pastime. Even at a park on the river, situated almost equidistant from Lowell and Manchester, this prosperous condition prevails, and every night finds carloads of merry-makers arriving at and departing from the resort. At this place scores of automobiles are parked in the vicinity, but the street railway is doing the big business, so big in fact that the fare has been reduced. It seems that strikes do not affect the young folks in the least, as far as their pleasure is concerned; that only their elders, who have passed the days of trivial pleasures, do the worrying.

COX ASKS ALL TO WEAR POPPY MAY 30
BOSTON, May 25.—Governor Chandler M. Cox yesterday issued the following appeal:
"On May 30, Memorial day, the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, together with allied service men's organizations of the nations associated with the United States in the world war, are to pay special tribute to departed comrades through the symbol of the poppy of Flanders. It is requested that the people at large shall wear on that day this emblem of the heroic dead, so beautifully inscribed in the poem, 'In Flanders Fields,' by Lieut. Col. John McCrae, and in America's Answer, by J. W. Lillard.
"The citizens of Massachusetts have always been glad to respond to any patriotic appeal, and by honoring the request of the Veterans of Foreign Wars to wear the poppy, they will be dead and helping the service men of our commonwealth."

WOMAN FOR INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENT BOARD

(Special to The Sun)

BOSTON, May 25.—That Governor Cox is still hopeful that circumstances may be brought about which will permit him to name a woman as a member of the industrial accident board was plainly shown today, as a result of moves made in the governor's office and in the house of representatives. The governor sent to the council the nomination of William W. Kennard of Somerville, to succeed himself as chairman of the industrial accident board, but he refrained from nominating for a second time John H. Cogswell of the same board, whose term has also expired. Thus he has continued a rumor which has been prevalent for several days, that the latter must give way for a woman unless provision can be made for the appointment of an additional member of the board.

In a final effort to bring this possibility about, a bill was filed in the house today, presumably at the governor's request, by Rep. Meritt D. Graves of Springfield. It provides for the appointment of an additional member of the accident board, "who shall be a woman." This latter phrase is depended upon by the governor to get the bill safely by a point of order, for an exactly similar bill, with the exception that it lacked the phrase referred to, was killed a few weeks ago. At that time Chairman Kennard, who is now re-appointed, appeared before the legislative committee having it in charge and declared that there is absolutely no need for an additional woman on the board, and that the six members now serving can handle all of the work without difficulty or delay.

Since then, however, various women candidates have sprung up, and the political friends of Mr. Cogswell have become very active, with the result that the governor finds himself in a dilemma from which only the passage of the bill referred to can save him.

SUES ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE FOR $250,000

NEW YORK, May 25.—Alleging that the Anti-Saloon league had libeled him by characterizing him as the "Sancho Panza of the liquor Don Quixotes" and otherwise holding him out to public ridicule, Charles Tabor Stout of Portland, Me., manufacturer of proprietary medicines, yesterday filed suit in federal court for $250,000.

The Anti-Saloon league—both the National organization and the New York state branch—the American Issue Publishing company, and officials of all three organizations were named as defendants. The suit is based on an article published in the American Issue, the Anti-Saloon league's organ, last November, in which Stout was criticized as author of a book, "The Eighteenth Amendment and the Part Played by Organized Medicine." Besides calling Mr. Stout a "Sancho Panza," he alleges the publication declared he had "neither scientific training nor reputation" sufficient to fit him for writing such a book, and charged him with fraudulent advertising of patent medicines.

Berton Bralley's Daily Poem

SURE THEY DO

Cynical bachelors may proclaim
They are safe from the tender passion,
Quite untouched by the subtle flame
That glows and glows in a wondrous fashion;
But by and by there will come along
Some girl to capture them, one and all,
For be their armor however strong
Sooner or later they always fall!

And some are taken when blithe and young
And some are taken in middle age,
Bound and fettered and swiftly hung
Into the matrimonial cage;
Just when they boast of their freedom loudest
They find they're caught in the ancient thrall,
The toughest bachelors and the proudest—
Sooner or later they always fall!

And if for the length of a life they're "free,"
Free to wander the world alone,
It isn't because they have wished to be,
For deep in their hearts, if you could be shown,
Is the cherished shrine of an old romance,
A memory sweet that they still recall;
Oh, love's the master—men have no chance,
Sooner or later they always fall!

PROGRAM BY PUPILS OF MRS. HASKELL

Before a large and appreciative audience in Kilton hall last night, the pupils of Mrs. Lillian Dodge Haskell presented a very interesting program. In addition to the pupils' efforts, there were vocal selections by Miss Elta R. Thompson, a monolog by Mrs. Carpenter and a recitation by Mrs. Haskell.

Mrs. Carpenter gave a remarkable exhibition, impersonating a fond mother endeavoring to manage her "Angel Willie" at a card party.

A verse narrative of a love affair in Texas, entitled "Lascia," was exceptionally well given by Mrs. Haskell.

An orchestra, composed of Greta Darling, Geneva Hanson and Marion Taylor, provided music during the evening. The ushers were Mrs. Wesley Goodwin, Miss Ruth Dickey, Miss Charlotte Haskell, Miss Gladys McCoughrey, Edward Alcott and Joseph Hollingsworth. Besides Mrs. Haskell, Miss Thompson and Mrs. Carpenter, the following took part in the program: Misses Lillian George, Viva Brown, Edna Dalby, Helen Savage, Ethel Pearson, Mary Proffitt, Lee Brown, Rena Hatch, Virginia Byam, Doris Conley, Regina McLean, Genevieve Young, Elma Reis, Ernestine Laddlaw, Doris Yorke, Helma Hanson and Thomas Sheehan, Warren Dean and Stanley Snow.

NIGHT AIR MAIL SOON TO BE INAUGURATED

BOSTON, May 25.—The night air mail will soon be a feature of Uncle Sam's postal service. While the nation is sleeping the great mail planes will be scooting through the air from coast to coast bearing messages and other exchanges between east and west, according to Col. Paul Henderson, second assistant postmaster general.

Col. Henderson is head of the air mail, which operated more than 40 weeks without a single accident and with a schedule maintained practically by all the time. He said:

"We have come to the conclusion that the air mail has reached its limit operating only by day, because the railways afford a 24-hour-a-day service. For several months we have been arranging for night flying. Two big tasks were to be done, equipping of all mail planes with radio; and second, establishment of aerial light-houses or electric beacons and flood lights at emergency and regular mail fields at approximate distances of 20 to 40 miles, all the way, across the continent between New York and San Francisco. We are doing these things at present.

"Our 14 mail fields are equipped with radio stations and we hope to have the first of the planes equipped with radio by June 1. They will have wireless telephones and radio direction finders. By using the direction finder a pilot will be able to keep on his route in darkness, storm or fog, and the beacons at his objective will guide him directly over the hole when the floodlights will be turned on, enabling him to land as easily as in daylight.

"We have already carried the mail from coast to coast in less than 18 hours; and we think we can provide steady service of this sort. It will be important, too. For example, mail leaving New York after the close of business will be delivered in Chicago before business starts the next morning."

DEADLOCK ON THE BONUS BILL

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The republican members of senate finance committee have practically reached an impasse on the soldiers' bonus bill, half of the membership favoring the Smoot plan for paid-up insurance policies for the veterans and half favoring the McCumber plan for certificates to be issued to the veterans upon which they can borrow money, as in the house bill.

This situation developed at a meeting of the republican members yesterday, when Senator McLean of Connecticut, swinging over to the Smoot plan, in view of this situation, Chairman McCumber, it was said yesterday, has determined to call in the democratic members of the committee, and a meeting of full committee probably will be held Friday or Saturday.

From democratic sources it was learned that the democratic members of the committee are inclined to favor the McCumber certificate plan. That being the case, it is expected that the bill, as finally drafted and reported to the senate, will in many respects resemble the house bill.

The land features of the house bill, however, will be eliminated or considerably altered.

Senator McCumber for a time expected to hear from the president in regard to the bonus matter. But it now appears that the president intends to leave it entirely to the senators to struggle with this tangled Senator Watson, of Indiana, a republican member of the finance committee, who has taken an active part in the bonus matter, is expected to return to Washington in time for the meeting Friday or Saturday.

STRENGTH RESTORED

Mrs. Frank Letourneau, No. 5 Pine street, Waterville, Me., suffered for two weeks from an attack of influenza, which left her in a serious condition. "I was so weak I could hardly walk about the house," she says, "and was dizzy a great deal of the time. I had backaches and trembled so much that I had to rest a lot. I had no appetite, my stomach was so weak that I could eat only the lightest food and I was so nervous that every noise would sound in my head like a blow of a hammer."

"I had medical treatment with but little benefit. One day I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they were just what I needed. Soon the dizziness disappeared and I slept well at night. I kept on with the pills and they restored my strength. My nerves became stronger and I was benefited in every way."

"My daughter also took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and became entirely well and strong."

HORSE SENDS FOUR MEN TO HOSPITAL

WALTHAM, May 25.—A horse attached to a wagon of the sewer department and hitched to a weight became frightened at Main and Linden streets yesterday afternoon. It knocked over a fence and an automobile and sent four men to the Waltham hospital, one of them seriously injured.

When the horse started to bolt, Patrick Kelley, the driver jumped for the bridle. But the horse broke away from Kelley and bolted across the street, the weight lashing about him. Because of the weight he was unable to go in a straight line, and served onto the sidewalk, knocking over a fence. He then dashed into the street again, hit the automobile and pitched the three occupants to the street.

The most seriously injured is J. W. Thompson. He was jammed between the wagon and the automobile.

The others injured are Kelley, Peter Robson of Hudson the operator of the car, and J. E. Brady.

FRANCE TO PROTECT RUMANIA'S CLAIMS

PARIS, May 25. (By the Associated Press.)—Steps have been taken to place France on record as agreeing to protect Rumania's claims to Bessarabia, Vice Premier Barthou announced in an address last night at a dinner given in honor of the Rumanian premier, M. Bratiano.

"M. Bratiano kept his promise, made in 1919, to block the path against the Bolsheviks," said M. Barthou. "Today I have signed a bill guaranteeing Bessarabia to Rumania which I trust will pass."

SUCCEEDS WHERE DOCTORS FAIL

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Often Does That.—Read Mrs. Miner's Testimony

Churubusco, N. Y.—"I was under the doctor's care for over five years for backache and had no relief from his medicine. One day a neighbor told me about your Vegetable Compound and I took it. It helped me so much that I wish to advise all women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles and backache. It is a great help in carrying a child, as I have noticed a difference when I didn't take it. I thank you for this medicine and if I ever come to this point again I do not want to be without the Vegetable Compound. I give you permission to publish this letter so that all women can take my advice."—Mrs. FRED MINER, Box 102, Churubusco, N. Y.

It's the same story over again. Women suffer from ailments for years. They try doctors and different medicines, but feel no better. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you can see its value in the case of Mrs. Miner.

That's the truth of the matter. If you are suffering from any of the troubles women have, you ought to try this medicine. It can be taken in safety by young or old, as it contains no harmful drugs.

G. O. P. LEADERS APPEAL

Impress Upon Members Necessity of Attendance at Senate Sessions

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Republican senate leaders planned today to impress forcibly again on their membership the necessity of attendance at the senate sessions while the tariff bill is under consideration. They had planned a party conference for that purpose.

Again last night there was difficulty in obtaining a quorum with the result that the senate machinery was halted for nearly an hour. There was a similar experience the night before.

STATE FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

NEW BEDFORD, May 25.—Showered with flowers, the retiring officers of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs made their last appearance as officers at the final session of the state federation's annual meeting here this morning. An armful of flowers were also presented to the incoming officers. The new president, Miss Grace M. Poole of Brockton, and the retiring president, Mrs. George Minot Baker were almost hidden with flowers.

A farewell address by Mrs. Baker and the acceptance of a resolution thanking New Bedford for its gracious hospitality, were leading features of the morning. Mrs. Poole's speech of acceptance of the presidency referred to Mrs. Baker as "our spiritual president as Mrs. Herbert J. Garrison was our war president."

The establishment of a $25,000 endowment fund was reported by the endowment chairman, Mrs. Arthur A. Hubbard of Milton, who said, "At last the time has come when we can spend our income."

Mrs. George O. Jenkins of Pittsford, was elected a trustee of the federation endowment fund to serve for three years.

WOULD CONVENE OLD CHINESE PARLIAMENT

PEKING, May 25. (By the Associated Press.)—Public opinion in China favors the reconvening of the old parliament, according to despatches to the Chinese press from various cities, and the delegates are assembling at Canton, Shanghai and Tien Tsin in the belief that they soon will be formally convened to assume direction of the nation's affairs.

PLANES AND RADIO RECRUIT FOR CAMP

BOSTON, May 25.—Airplanes and radiograms will be used tomorrow to carry to the people of New England the message of the Citizens' Military Training camp, to be held at Camp Devens August 1 to 31.

A proclamation by Gov. Channing H. Cox setting forth the advantage of the camp to the young men of Massachusetts will be broadcasted from the Medford radio station tomorrow evening. On the same evening Mrs. Clarence R. Edwards, wife of Gen. Edwards, commanding general of the 1st Corps Area, will speak by radio to the mothers of New England, inviting and urging their co-operation in spreading the idea of the camp and assisting in the recruiting campaign.

Applications are coming in from all parts of New England to the Military Training Camps association, room 316, 5 State st.

UP TO THE CITY COUNCIL AGAIN

The board of health today officially notified Dennis Murphy, counsel for Alexander Ogonski, pastor of the Holy Trinity Polish Catholic church, that it has approved of the petition for the use of Spaulding park as a burying ground as far as the board itself is concerned in the matter, which is limited to the public health.

Inasmuch as the petition originally was addressed to the city council, it will next go to that body to take the next step and final action on the proposition. It is understood that if the council approves there will be no delay in the actual purchase of the land by the Polish people.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

OLD TOMBSTONES ARE UNEARTHED

Workmen employed in the raising of the buildings recently acquired by P. J. Mahoney at the corner of Reed and Fifth streets, were treated to a surprise yesterday, when, in the course of minor excavations, they accidentally uncovered two stone tablets in a concealed corner of the cellar. The tablets were neatly placed over a 30 ft. well, which was also discovered in an inconspicuous section. Evidently tombstones, they were somewhat roughened with age, so that the inscriptions were hardly readable. The larger of the two contained the following: "In Memory of Robert Young, A Native of Scotland, Who Died Sep. 28, 1811, Aged 32 years." The bottom of the stone read, "Rest thee, my husband, Rest, thy trouble's o'er." The remainder was illegible. On the other stone was inscribed, "Everett Adams, son of Mr. Adam and Mrs. Eunice Wiley, died Nov. 22, 1832, aged 6 weeks and four months." Where the stones came from originally is not known, unless they were taken from some cemetery when new stones were placed over the resting places of the departed.

HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PLANS MEMORIAL TO LATE CYRUS WENDELL IRISH

Association Also Honors Another Former High School Principal, the Late Frank W. Coburn
---Meeting Last Night in High School Hall---Discussion of Changes in Modern Secondary Education

A fitting memorial in commemoration of the life and works of the late Cyrus Wendell Irish, former headmaster of the Lowell high school, was taken under consideration at a largely attended meeting of the High School Alumni association, held last night in the school hall, and resulted in action being taken toward the accomplishment of this purpose in view. The First Street oval proposition also was brought before the meeting.

The association decided to present the school with an oil painting of the late principal, at a cost of about $1000. The cost is to be taken care of by popular subscription. It was also voted, as an additional honor to the late Mr. Irish, that the school committee and high school commission, Maurice Lambert, Dr. Mehan and Mrs. Pearson should be requested to name the new high school auditorium for the dead master, and the present high school hall for another principal, the late Frank W. Coburn. It was the unanimous opinion of those present that the latter should also be honored.

In regard to the stadium, no definite action was taken, as it was considered a matter for the city rather than the alumni association. All were urged, however, to assist in every way possible in advancing the undertaking, and the president was given the power to name a committee to look into the advisability of the alumni taking a part in the movement, to report at the next meeting, to be held at the end of the month. One of the chief proponents of the stadium project was Councilor Smith J. Adams.

The changes in modern secondary education in 30 years were discussed by a former Lowell man, Arthur Meredith, now commissioner of education for the state of Connecticut. He voiced his approval of the modern outdoor training which is available at such places as the projected oval in First street. He said that such work was beneficial to both teachers and pupils. Mr. Meredith expressed in regretful, endeavoring style, and he expressed himself as hopeful of some action for the perpetuation of his memory.

Old School Days

Commissioner Meredith, in his remarks, told of old days at the school, laughable incidents and treasured memories of his experience with the teachers, particularly Miss Stevens, Miss Watson, Miss Stevens and the late sub-master, Frank W. Sherburne, beloved of all his former students. The change in the classes of the present day from those of 30 years ago, when a select circle was practically the entire attendance, was also mentioned upon. He urged the alumni to keep in touch with the present status of secondary education by means of personal contact, and renewal of old acquaintance with the teachers of old. At the beginning of the business session Mr. Irish suggested a painting of a suitable memorial. On motion of Elmore L. McRae, the president was authorized to appoint a committee of five to arrange for the painting. James Roane, who claimed as much experience with Mr. Irish as the painting would all thought that the painting would not be enough, and suggested that the new high school auditorium be named for Mr. Irish.

Bennett Silverblatt thought a memorial to Mr. Irish would be more suitable at the First street oval, but Mrs. Pearson, of the school committee, questioned the wisdom of this suggestion.

ascribing the oval to the work of the city rather than the high school. Edward Trull spoke in favor of the naming of the school auditorium and Charles S. McIntyre moved to assess each member of the association $1, the fee to be collected through the class secretaries.

Dr. Patrick J. Mehan felt that if the new hall was to be named for Mr. Irish the present school hall should be named as well, and proposed the name of Frank F. Coburn. Dr. Lambert favored the suggestion, and expressed the belief that it would be favorably regarded by the school committee and high school commission. Maurice Lambert, Dr. Mehan and Mrs. Pearson said they would favor the naming of the new auditorium if it came before the school committee. Thomas Delaney, another member of the school committee, thought that a memorial, of which he was in favor, should be of a more substantial nature than the naming of a school hall, and suggested a school library. After many other suggestions, Bennett Silverblatt offered a motion that the school committee be asked to conform with the wish of the alumni in the matter, and favorable action followed.

On the question of the stadium, Edward Trull expressed the belief that the high school should have an athletic field and stadium of its own, although not wishing to throw cold water on the oval proposition. He was willing to subscribe to both. Thomas Delaney followed in the same vein, and the matter, after much discussion, was placed in the hands of a committee to be named by Mr. Harris and who will report at the next meeting, in about two weeks.

ITALY AND RUSSIA SIGN TRADE TREATY

GENOA, May 25.—(By Associated Press).—The commercial treaty between Soviet Russia and Italy was signed in the Royal Palace at 4.50 yesterday afternoon.

The first section of the agreement concerns the entire problem of Italian-Russian commercial relations, the second deals with maritime communications and transportation in general between the two countries and the third deals with concessions which Russia is ready to make to Italians for the exploitation of Russian resources.

The third section was objected to by Signor Schanzer as infringing upon the moral pledges taken by Italy with the other European countries to be represented at The Hague conference. If the concessions contained in the third section were accepted, in the opinion of the Italian foreign minister, the other countries might even suspect the existence of a secret political agreement between Italy and Russia.

Presumably the commercial treaty will become effective June 28, when the commercial convention concluded at Rome by M. Vorovsky expires.

MAY ASK U. S. TO AID

Possibility of U. S. Being Asked to Mediate Chilean-Peruvian Dispute

WASHINGTON, May 25. (By the Associated Press).—With the Chilean-Peruvian conference here approaching the end of its second week and still undecided over its important issues, there was widespread discussion in diplomatic circles today over help from the United States government to bring the two sides together.

At the state department it was said that no definite steps toward mediation had been taken, but in other quarters there were intimations that a plan to appeal to the department for advice had been discussed.

The two delegations were called together again today for a joint session after a two-day recess. Close secrecy was observed.

SEC. DAVIS REPORTS IMPROVED BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, May 25.—A picture of steadily reviving business activities throughout the country is drawn by Secretary Davis in a statement today based on reports of employment conditions to the department of labor.

The reports indicate that unemployment has been "practically eliminated" in New York state. The secretary said that it has been reduced from 10 per cent in the past three months in Pennsylvania. Conditions are also better in the Middle West, Mr. Davis said.

He added that in the south the reports show steady improvement in Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama and that practically no unemployment exists in North Carolina.

GENOA SHRINE OF PEACE, SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

LONDON, May 25.—Replying to a message from the Oxford Union society, paying tribute to his work at Genoa, Premier Lloyd George said he trusted and believed Genoa would be "the shrine of peace and tranquility to a disturbed world."

Acknowledging a message from the Welsh National parliamentary party, he said that Great Britain's struggle to solve Europe's urgent problems in a spirit of cooperation and peace was only beginning. He added that the Genoa conference had pointed the way, and that he was confident the goal would be reached.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

For the final week of vaudeville at the B. F. Keith theatre the Sharrocks' Emma and Harry, are listed as favorites, with their unusually happy blend of psychiatry and comedy. "Behind the Grandstand" is the title of their act, and they give it with remarkable brilliancy. Stephens & Hollister, in their comedy list of California, "Back in Beverly Hills," are other who are topnotchers on the program, and Eddie Donahoe and John Hall, local boys, in their new musical act, range top well with any other similar team of the season. Other acts on the bill are: Dotson, lightning dancer; Officer Vokes & Don, in a trained dog act; The Recktors, society entertainers, and Paul Nolan & Co. in juggling.

THE STRAND

"Sky-High," the newest Tom Mix picture, which opens at the Strand today, is said to attain the highest speed record of the star's career on the film. It starts full speed ahead and continues at record pace throughout, finishing with a climax that will actually "lift you from your seats." We mustn't tell what it's all about. That wouldn't be fair. Suffice to say that it's fast as they make 'em—and that means very fast. The redoubtable star skims along the edge of the Grand Canyon with his favorite horse, Tony, and later you see him shooting through in an airplane and doing all kinds of stunts. His daring is surely thrilling.

Gladys Walton's figure is undeniably beautiful, with a suppleness and grace that is emphasized with artistic finish in this latest picture feature of hers.

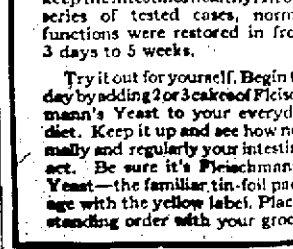

Increases the action of the intestines

Hundreds of men and women have already found freedom from laxatives by eating Fleischmann's fresh yeast.

Doctors are now agreed that proper elimination of waste matter should be brought about by food. One doctor comes right out and states plainly that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is one of the causes of constipation.

Physicians all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast because it is a fresh food, rich in those elements which keep the intestines healthy. In one series of tested cases, normal functions were restored in from 3 days to 5 weeks.

Try it out for yourself. Begin today by adding 2 or 3 loaves of Fleischmann's Yeast to your everyday diet. Keep it up and see how normally and regularly your intestines act. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT AT THE NORMAL SCHOOL

Judge Says Women's
Tongues Are Responsible
for Heaps of Trouble

Frank W. Wright Will Pre-
side Over Teachers' Institute to Be Held Tomorrow

"If something could be done to curb women's tongues, we wouldn't have half of these troubles to begin with," was Judge Thomas J. Enright's comment in district court this morning as he found Thomas J. Cushing and James Watterson guilty of disturbing the peace by fighting in a public street, and fined each of them $10. Appeals followed the findings in both instances.

From testimony offered it appeared that a scuffle, in which the two men engaged, was the result of conversation passing between two female members of the Cushing and Watterson households. Both parties had plenty of witnesses to put on the stand and much testimony was offered, but the court said that he was convinced that the law had been broken and that it was his duty to impose sentences.

John J. Ahern was found guilty of drunkenness and operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor and was fined $50 on the latter charge. The drunkenness complaint against him was filed.

The same punishment was meted out to Herbert N. Flanagan, accused of running a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. His case was brought up yesterday but continued until today while it could be investigated.

The case involving Nicholas Deleolis and his alleged attack with a knife on Edward M. J. Johnson at the Tewksbury state hospital, came up again today but it was continued until tomorrow. When arraigned yesterday the defendant's actions aroused the suspicions of the court and he was ordered examined as to his sanity. The examination was not possible yesterday. It was ordered today. Disposition of the case will be held up pending the report of the doctors.

With Frank W. Wright, director of the state division of elementary and secondary education and normal schools as presiding officer, the Teachers' Institute will take place at the Lowell Normal school tomorrow, beginning at 9 a. m. and continuing, with an hour's intermission for luncheon, until 3 p. m.

Director Wright, in the capacity of presiding officer, will call the morning session to order at 9 o'clock. Opening exercises will be followed by greetings from Clarence N. Weed, acting principal of the Normal school. Community singing, under the direction of Miss Inez Field Damon, director of music at the school, will follow. Disposition will be made by an address on "Discipline in the School and the Home" by New Hampshire's commissioner of education, E. W. Butterfield. An interval of music will follow Mr. Butterfield's remarks, consisting of a group of negro spirituals, by Edna Lawrence, a member of the school's junior class. The musical portion will be followed by rambling addresses and demonstrations and teaching conferences in English, Grades I, II, and III, will be demonstrated by Miss Lillian Allard and pupils from Tewksbury; Grades IV, V, and VI, by Miss Rita K. Hall and pupils from Billerica; and Grades VII and VIII, by Miss Lillian Allard, Demerits and pupils from Chelmsford.

Following the demonstrations and conference Bernard M. Sheridan, superintendent of the Lawrence schools, will deliver an address on "Teaching English in the Elementary Schools." A musical period will follow the address, and the afternoon session will be devoted to the study of standards and guidance of the Reading public schools, will close the morning exercises with an address on "Checking Results and Adjustments to Eliminate Failures."

At 12:30 a recess will be taken for luncheon and refreshments.

The short afternoon session will begin with a discussion of "Physical Education in the Public School Program," by Carl L. Schrader, supervisor of physical education, state department of education. Immediately afterward, Mr. Schrader will give a demonstration of the Normal school, will give a demonstration.

LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL FIELD DAY TOMORROW

Tomorrow, the day set for the annual field day of the Lowell high school boys' regiment, will open with assembly of all the clubs at 9:30 a. m. After a recess period, they will be dismissed at 9:45, to reassemble at 12:30 for the real activities of the day.

The parade will leave the school on the stroke of one, and will march up Merrimack street to Moody, to Tilden, to Merrimack, and down Merrimack past city hall where it will pass in review before the mayor, council and school committee. From city hall the march will continue down Merrimack to Central, to Middlesex to Thordike, and to the common, where the day's exercises will begin promptly at 2 o'clock.

The usual program will be held, including company drill, squad drill and individual competitive drill. At the close of the drill the prizes will be awarded, a pennant each to the two companies making the best showing in the competitive drill, and a third to the company making the best appearance in But's manual. A sword will be given to the commander of the company representing the best appearance both in the drill and on the march to the common. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded the winners of the first, second and third honors in the individual competitive drill.

There will be eight additional medals to be given to the squad which proves best in drill and appearance. A silver medal will go to the corporal, and a bronze medal to each of his subordinates. The new medals are the gift of the combat troops of the 102nd artillery regiment at Camp Devens.

The judges chosen for tomorrow's exercises are: Major Charles A. Russell, Captain Harry Brown, Alfred Gustafson and Percy J. Wilson, and Lieutenant James Driscoll.

In case of rain school sessions will be conducted as usual, and the field day exercises held on Monday.

WANTS TO RENT AN ASPHALT PLANT

City Engineer Kearney is communicating with several contractors in an effort to rent an asphalt plant for this summer and within a day or two expects to make arrangements whereby a plant will be shipped here and work may be started.

While it is not known how much this method of doing the asphalt road work will cost, the city engineer cites that two years ago a plant might have been rented from Warren Bros for five cents per square yard of material laid. The hiring of a plant this year will be either on the per yard basis or on a straight monthly rental.

The engineer feels that eventually the city will purchase a plant of its own and with a thorough organization of city men to operate it, the cost of laying the asphalt would be less than charges under a contract, he believes.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Harold O'Donoghue, who died May 25, 1922.

The smile we loved so dearly,
The voice that seemed so sweet,
We'll miss them all sorely,
But soon again we'll meet.

MR. JOHN REGAN and Family.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Harold O'Donoghue, who died May 25, 1922.

A year ago, dear Harold,
Your blue eyes closed in sleep
To look into a brighter world,
Where angels never weep.

MRS. AND MRS. JOHN M. O'DONOGHUE and Brother Gregoire.

IN MEMORIAM

To those who by their kind acts and expressions of sympathy and kind tributes served to lighten our sorrow in the death of our dear brother, we extend our sincere thanks and heartfelt gratitude, and especially to the Lowell Bleachery, towel department, and the various departments.

TEXTILE STRIKERS ARE VERY OPTIMISTIC

Local textile strike conditions remain unchanged, but strike leaders are very optimistic.

The cheerful feeling prevailing at strike headquarters today was brought about by several reports concerning an increase of business in some of the mills. It was stated that the carding department of the Tremont & Suffolk mills, which has been practically at a standstill since a year ago last October, is now showing signs of activity and it is said that employees of that department, who have been idle since have been sent for and are now busy at their machines. Strike leaders are of the opinion that within a short time the entire mill will be operating on a full-time schedule.

Another report has been received from the Musketquid mill to the effect that the mill officials are calling back some of their help, who have been idle for a long time. It is said at strike headquarters that the employees of the Musketquid are expecting a five per cent. increase in wages.

From employees of the Mohair Plush Co. comes the report that looms, idle for a long time, are starting up again. Favorable reports are also being received from several other local mills and the general feeling is that before the summer is over the output of the local industries will have reached normal again.

NO DECISION IN BROSAN CASE

No decision will be given for some time in the case of Patrick T. Brosnan, administrator of the estate of Thomas J. Brosnan, vs. Martha A. Gage, which went to trial Tuesday morning at the superior court without jury, for at the close of the trial this noon Justice Hammond announced that he would take the case under advisement.

In this case the plaintiff is seeking to recover damages for the death of his son, which occurred in February, 1917, when the young man broke through the ice while skating on the Merrimack river, the contention of the plaintiff being that the river at the point where the accident occurred, had been used for navigation for over 20 years and for skating in seasonable weather for as long a time, and therefore was a public highway, and the defendant was negligent in not erecting barriers or warnings at points where thick ice formed, after the operation of ice-cutting was over.

The next case to go on trial was that of James J. Boyle vs. Peter G. and Josephine Lary, an action of contract by which the plaintiff seeks to recover the sum of $125 for commission on the alleged sale of real estate owned by the defendants.

FIRST STREET BOULEVARD

F. D. Sabie, district engineer of the Massachusetts highway commission, will be in Lowell tomorrow to discuss final plans with City Engineer Stephen Kearney relative to the first street boulevard, preparatory to the calling for bids on next Monday. Under the existing agreement between the city and state the state department will call for the bids and award the contract.

WILL ENFORCE THE LAW HONOR THOMAS DURKIN

Judge Enright Issues Warning to Men Who Count the Railroad Ties

Lowell Typos Elect Brother Durkin President and Delegate to Convention

That the practice of walking on railroad tracks will be discouraged by the strict enforcement of the law was made known by Judge Thomas J. Enright in district court this morning when 14 men faced him and pleaded guilty of trespassing on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad tracks. The cases were placed on file.

The sight of the men being arrested as they were returning from work last evening caused a great deal of excitement in the locality of Maple street and the Lincoln bridge. Co-operating with a local police officer, Capt. Thomas M. White of Taunton, and Lieutenant George E. Walsh of Lowell, connected with the railroad police made the arrests.

In court this morning Capt. White, who is the head of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad police, testified that he had repeatedly warned some of the men in person or through his subordinates. He said that the practice of the men walking on the tracks had to be discouraged and he was taking this step as a means.

He then presented the court a copy of a report sent to him by the interstate commerce commission which showed the number of deaths and accidents that had resulted from this practice. The court read part of the report and commented at some length upon it.

He said that he did not want to fine these men this morning as they were all working men and had to work hard for every dollar they received. He continued that it was not his desire to fine them for the reason under the circumstances and that he hated to do it.

When Capt. White presented a willingness to allow the cases to be filed if a warning could be issued, the judge said: "These laws are made for the safety of the people and not as benefits to the railroads. People will persist in walking the tracks to work even in the face of repeated horrible accidents. Families are left without support, many times, from the actions of men who become careless by walking tracks." For many years there has been a law against this and signs are posted at frequent intervals all along the tracks. Even though it does require a few moments more, my advice to you men, and all others who indulge in this practice, is to take a few additional steps to your work."

Capt. White said after court that he had done everything possible to stop the track walking. He said that the chief complaints came from men going from the station as far as the Lincoln bridge and from Maple street across the tracks. He continued that while he was stationed in Taunton he was kept in touch with the conditions here by Lieut. Walsh, who is in charge of the railroad police in this section.

Election of officers of the Lowell Typographical union yesterday was featured by the selection of Thomas J. Durkin as president and delegate to the convention of the International Typographical union at Atlantic City, Michael I. Labelle as vice-president, Fred A. Speed as secretary-treasurer and Fred T. Brown as recording secretary.

Members elected to the executive committee were: N. W. Matthews, Jr., J. Frank Burke, Thomas F. Clark and Edward T. Draper, Mr. Draper was tied with Edward L. Carney, and the tenancy of the position was settled by a toss, which placed Mr. Draper on the committee. Cleveland K. Nobles, Michael I. Labelle and Joseph P. Gahin were elected to the board of auditors, J. Frank Burke, Michael I. Labelle and John D. O'Hearn were chosen as delegates to the Allied Printing Trades Council.

Harry Mozley and Fred A. Speed were elected delegates to the New England Typographical convention at New Bedford, with Thomas E. Clarke and M. I. Labelle as alternates.

For the I.T.U. officers, Walter W. Barrett and the administration ticket got a vote of two to one in Lowell.

The contest for delegate to the Atlantic City convention between Messrs. Durkin and Burke proved a most spirited and well fought battle. The candidates worked vigorously during the past several weeks, interviewing personally practically every member of the union. Mr. Durkin proved a good winner, greatly aided in his campaign by having the solid backing of his own, The Sun chapel. Going out of his chapel with a unanimous endorsement, and receiving splendid support in all other chapels there could be a good loser and was among the first to congratulate his successful opponent and announce his candidacy for next year.
